DUKE'S GIFTS SCRUTINIZED

Fear Couple May Receive Bomb Disguised as Wedding Present

ADDRESSES ARE CHECKED

Packages Returned to Senders Unopened If Persons Sending Them Not Known

By The Associated Press

MONTS, FRANCE, May 6—In the fear that a bomb might be disguised as a wedding gift, police maintained a close scrutiny today on packages delivered to the Duke of Windsor and Mrs. Wallis Simpson, the former monarch's associates disclosed.

Police take the parcels from the Tours post office to Mrs. Simpson at the Chateau de Cande, the betrothed couple's Touraine snuggery, where she gingerly inspects the senders' addresses.

If she does not recognize them she instructs the officers to return the packages unopened.

Several parcels already have been received, Edward's associates said, and more are expected. One apparently opened before the present precautions were taken, was said to have contained several rabbits' feet to assure luck and prosperity.

Duke Writes March

The duke was reported to have composed the tune to which he and Mrs. Simpson will march to the altar. He played the march on his bagpipe last night for his bride-to-be and the turreted chateau echoed to the shrill music.

A member of the household said Edward had written the composition especially for his American born fiancee. Years ago he composed a spirited military march for bagpipes which was adopted by an English guard regiment.

Preparations for the marriage meanwhile seemed virtually ready for the ceremony soon after Edward's brother, George VI, is crowned in London next Wednesday.

The Duke and Duchess of Kent and the Earl and Countess of Harewood (the countess is Edward's sister Mary, the princess royal) may be the only representatives of Britain's royal family at the wedding, a source close to the chateau said.

Edward's youngest brother, the Duke of Kent, probably will be best man and Herman L. Rogers [illegible]

YOUTH ADMITS 10 BURGLARIES, POLICE REPORT

Arrested at Cherry St. Home for Series of 'Early Bird' Break-Ins

HELPS HUNT FOR LOOT

Says Thefts Committed Before 10 at Night Because He Couldn't Stay Out Late

With the arrest of a [illegible] old Marion youth [illegible] police today stated they had [illegible] of 10 house burglaries dating from Feb. [illegible] to April 25. The youth, Donald [illegible] buster Cray of 470 Cherry street. He will be turned over to juvenile court.

After an investigation that extended over a period of several weeks police at 11:30 o'clock last night found the youth from his bed at his parents' home and reported that in a subsequent investigation recovered much of the loot that had been taken from the 10 homes. In a statement to police early this morning the youth admitted having committed all 10 burglaries, Chief Marks said. While police were of the opinion the youth had an accomplice he maintained he had entered the houses alone, the chief said.

Work Done Early

In all 10 of the burglaries practically the same methods were used and all made up an early bird series of thefts which attracted unusual attention because the houses were entered between [illegible] and 10 p. m. Chief Marks said today that the youth told him he had entered the houses early in the evening to avoid creating any suspicion at his home. He said his parents would not permit him to stay out late at night and that he chose the early hours for the burglaries so that he could return home before suspicion was aroused. The father, Donald W. Cray, is a WPA worker.

The youth is an eighth grade pupil at Central Junior high school.

Practically all the houses police recalled were entered through windows. In one case the prowler climbed a water spout to a porch roof and entered a bedroom. In all cases also the thefts were made while the occupants of the houses were away from home.

This morning several of the victims of the burglaries had visited police headquarters and identified part of the articles recovered. The loot taken from the houses was valued at $[illegible] by the owners.

Find Jewelry

Police said that when they searched young Cray's clothing they found two coin purses containing a number of women's wrist watches and rings. Shortly afterward he led the officers to the coal shed at the Cray residence where a 32 caliber automatic pistol was hidden. The gun was reported stolen from the home of Dr. B. I. Cehrs on Mt. Vernon avenue and was identified by the owner this morning.

While the search for stolen articles was in progress the youth admitted the burglaries police said and aided the officers in recovering much of the loot. After the gun had been found the officers were led to a barn three miles south of Marion just off the Prospect road where several coin purses containing rings and watches were found buried.

Police said the youth admitted destroying some of the stolen articles and selling others. The settings had been removed from a number of rings, some of the watches had been dismantled and the emblem of one ring, thought to have been a high school class

O. W. U. COED MISSING SINCE LATE TUESDAY

Efforts To Locate Lakewood, O., Girl at Home of Parents or Relatives Prove Futile

By The Associated Press

DELAWARE, O., May 6—Ohio Wesleyan university officials reported today they had been unable to locate pretty Ruth Baumgardner, 22-year old senior from Lakewood, O.

Miss Goldie McCue, assistant dean of women, said that the girl had been missing since Tuesday midnight.

Efforts to locate the student at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Baumgardner of Lakewood, or at relatives have been unsuccessful, Harold Sheridan, university dean, said.

Her automobile was found in a private garage where she kept it, and Miss McCue reported that an examination of the girl's room did not indicate any wearing apparel missing.

Third Ohio WPA Class for Blind Formed Here

State Commission Represented at Organization Meeting; Education and Social Program Outlined

New interest was opened for Marion county's blind yesterday when representatives of the Ohio State commission for the blind and members of the county WPA education staff met at the Y. M. C. A. with a group of blind residents and organized the third class of its kind in the state.

Classes will be held each Thursday from 1 to 5 p. m. in the second floor assembly room at the Y and will afford the blind an opportunity to study Braille, basket making, sewing, knitting, chair caning, crocheting and guitar, mandolin and violin technique.

Following the suggestions offered yesterday informality will be the keynote of the classes. No hard and fast rules will be laid down for the classroom procedure. Each week there will be entertainment and after the class work refreshments will be served.

Carl Lister, supervisor of WPA adult education in the county, today expressed the hope that all blind persons in the city and county—records show there are 103—will avail themselves of the classes.

Free Transportation

The Marion Rapid Transit Inc. will give free bus transportation to blind persons and their guides. Anyone who cannot get to a bus will be called for at home if Mr. Lister is notified either by seeing him at the WPA headquarters on South Prospect street or by calling [illegible].

Among the speakers yesterday were Rev. Daniel J. Uhlman of Springfield, field secretary of the Ohio commission for the blind; Miss Helen Mechling, district home teacher for the commission, and John G. Olmstead of Oberlin, supervisor of the WPA education program in District 6. Mr. Olmstead outlined the scope of the work in a brief summary which followed informal talks by Rev. Uhlman, Miss Mechling and other visitors. At the close of the meeting refreshments furnished by Marion stores and [illegible] were served.

Aim of Program

Through a program like this we are attempting to [illegible] to draw out and put to work some of the talents and [illegible] some of you have, Rev. Uhlman said, speaking directly to the people most interested in the [illegible]. He brought out that it is the hope of those in charge to emphasize the social side as well, giving the blind an opportunity to mingle with the sighted public and make contacts in a more extensive way than is generally afforded today.

We are not interested in blindness but in the man or woman, boy or girl, the life that is behind the affliction, he stated. The program will be not to [illegible] in many things but to inspire to do what is done well. For one thing it is essential that the individual must do things well in fact better than a sighted person.

Rev. Uhlman spoke of the significance of this year to the blind in that it was on July 4, 18[illegible]7 that the Ohio State School for the Blind was founded in Columbus. Today we have the best methods and procedure available which will bring fruition, he said in speaking of the growth of the institution.

He inspired his listeners with brief accounts of the fame which has come to many blind contemporaries in vocations and professions.

BRIDGE WORK AT KING'S MILL BEGUN

Replacement of Old Iron Structure by WPA Will Eliminate Hazard

Work is now under way on replacement of the hazardous King's Mill iron bridge over the Whetstone river and will be completed in about three months, WPA officials said today. The $16,000 project, of which $10,000 is being paid by the federal government and $6,000 by the county, will involve transporting of the [illegible] bridge from its present state of repose at the state highway yards where it has been standing since torn down several years ago. About 30 men are employed.

Installation of the more substantial structure will correct a hazard created by the age of the present wrought iron bridge according to engineers in charge. They said the present bridge has been in use since the 1880s. Despite the fact that one bridge will be dismantled and another inserted in its place motorists will be able to cross the river during virtually the entire project with the exception of one or two days by means of a detour being constructed.

In addition St. James road which runs north and dips several feet below the bridge level and makes a curve before leading to the bridge will be filled in and straightened. The fill in will take 3,100 cubic yards of dirt and stone.

Widening of the river channel is also contemplated to lessen danger of overflow during floods. St. James road is generally covered during high water because of the dip. It is not heavily traveled and the old Newmans structure 16 feet wide will be adequate, engineers said.

GEMS WORTH MILLIONS GLEAM FOR CORONATION

Costly Stones of All Hues and Royal Raiment Will Turn Somber Westminster Abbey Into a Glittering Galaxy.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, May 6—Millions of dollars worth of jewels and costly gowns will be worn in the coronation social marathon just launched, and the precious stones promise to turn somber Westminster abbey into a glittering treasure chest at the crowning of George VI next Wednesday.

Valuable family gems are being taken from vaults and refurbished for the tremendous program of [illegible] banquets, dinners and garden parties scheduled during the next two months.

The coronation social [illegible] opened in the gold-decked ballroom of Buckingham palace last night when 500 debutantes, including 14 Americans, made their bows before King George and Queen Elizabeth in the first of three royal courts.

MAY OFFER REWARD FOR HACK MURDERER

Proposal Studied by Morrow County Officials, State Prober Returns

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, O., May 6—Morrow county commissioners studied the possibility of offering a reward for information leading to solution of the mystery surrounding the slaying of Mrs. Caroline Hack, 76, southwest of Cardington on April 18 as authorities continued their investigation today.

No decision regarding posting of a reward had been reached at noon. Prosecuting Attorney Nelson Campbell said he had not approached the board regarding a reward but favors such a move and intends to urge that an offer be made.

Meanwhile, the prosecutor and Sheriff Oscar George would not discuss details of recent developments in the investigation. One was the return to Mt. Gilead yesterday of Fred Dengler, a representative of the state bureau of criminal identification and investigation, who was to make ballistics tests with the bullets that killed Mrs. Hack and a half dozen guns rounded up by the sheriff. Prosecutor Campbell said Dengler had not completed his tests. He also said Dengler remained in Mt. Gilead this morning to continue the investigation but would not discuss details of Dengler's present work in Mt. Gilead.

Sheriff George likewise refused to discuss details of his activities in the investigation excepting to say, There's nothing to it when asked about an angle which he and a Knox county sheriff's deputy were reported to have checked in Mt. Vernon Tuesday. Newspaper reports from Mt. Vernon said [illegible] of a business deal in which Mrs. Hack was involved were [illegible] by the authorities and that the investigation of the Knox county angle apparently was not completed. However, Sheriff George said the checkup there did not lead to any tangible clues.

7 AUTOS CRASH AT OPEN SEWER

Trouble Starts When First Car Knocks Down Red Warning Lights

DITCH HALFWAY OVER ROAD

Excavation Part of WPA Sewer Project on South Prospect Street

A series of traffic accidents in which seven automobiles were involved was reported to police last night from South Prospect street where workmen had dug a trench half way across the street as part of a WPA sewer project.

The trouble started when a southbound car knocked down the standards holding red warning lights.

Because all the mishaps occurred within a short period and because final reports were late in reaching headquarters police had not been able to determine today just what had taken place at the scene of the excavation. Some of the cars were still there when the police arrived; another driver made a report to headquarters later but the names of some drivers who are believed to have been in the accidents have not yet been learned.

Near City Limits

The accidents occurred in front of the [illegible] O. Uncapher residence just inside the city limits where WPA workmen are running a new sewer line across the street to connect with a private line from the Uncapher residence.

When police arrived at the scene at 8:25 p. m. they were told by Warner Bastian who lives at 915 South Prospect street that a short while earlier a southbound car knocked over the standards on which a number of red lights were placed, hurdled the excavation and climbed over the pile of dirt on the south side. The name of this driver was not learned by police. They reported that the standards holding the red lights were knocked 50 feet away. At the same time all the lights were extinguished.

As police pieced the story together today the next mishap occurred when Wilton Baker of 214 Gurley avenue, who was driving south, pulled out quickly to avoid hitting the excavation and struck a car driven by a Mrs. Kegler of Prospect. The damage to the cars was slight. Baker reported the incident to police later.

Police Get Trouble Call

By this time however, a telephone call to headquarters telling of trouble at the excavation brought two patrolmen in a cruiser car.

When they arrived they found two other cars slightly damaged. Robert Boyd of near Prospect told police he was northbound and stopped suddenly as he reached the excavation because two other cars had the narrow passage way blocked. When he stopped a car driven by Lowell A. Raney, also of near Prospect, struck the rear of his machine. This damage also was slight and apparently the two cars which Boyd reported blocking the road were not involved in a collision.

Police stood guard at the excavation until John V. Ruth, service director, and workmen from the service department arrived with additional red warning lights.

FIVE IN FAVOR OF CONVICTION

Seven for Acquittal in Poll Taken To Confirm Deadlock Report

CASE WILL BE RE-TRIED

Judge Asks Each Juror Not To Disclose How Other Had Voted

By The Associated Press

NEW CASTLE, Ky., May 6—The jury trying Brig. Gen. Henry H. Denhardt was discharged in circuit court today after failing to decide since [illegible] p. m. Tuesday whether or not the tall, portly ex-lieutenant governor shot to death his fiancee, Mrs. Verna Garr Taylor.

The jurors, 11 farmers and a filling station operator, reported they had stood seven for acquittal and five for conviction. Each juror was polled and each confirmed the deadlock. Judge Charles C. Marshall thanked them for their careful attention during the 14 days of testimony and arguments. He asked each juror not to disclose how the other individuals had voted because he explained this case will have to be tried over again.

No Chance To Agree

The 61-year old defendant anxiously listened intently as each juror said that in his opinion there was no chance to agree on a verdict.

Before he finished polling the jury Judge Marshall said:

Gentlemen, I hope there is a chance for you all to come to a decision. This has been an expensive case to both the state and the defendant and it will have to be tried again. It will be even more expensive to both next time. If you think you can come to some verdict I will let you go back and consider through all the day.

The members of the jury shook their heads. One said: Judge, we stand the same now as we did the first night.

There were only 10 persons in the court room when the jury filed in. None of the hundreds of spectators who had crowded in to hear testimony and arguments had come back this morning. Neither Miss Bertha Denhardt, the defendant's sister, nor any of Mrs. Taylor's brothers was present.

General Talks to Lawyer

Denhardt conferred with John Marshall Berry of defense counsel in the jail after the jury was discharged.

Tired-eyed and drooping from more than [illegible] hours debate of circumstantial evidence, much of it highly technical, the jurors went to bed early last night.

It was just six months ago tonight that Verna Garr Taylor died. The state said Gen. Denhardt killed her. He said she killed herself.

The general slept late today and Jailer Jefferson Davis Simpson reported him in good spirits. He ate a late breakfast and read morning papers.

WAY IS PAVED FOR WPA CERTIFICATION

Work for Many of Former Direct Relief Families Virtually Assured, Director Abel Says.

County Relief Director John Abel said today that authorization to begin a WPA certification program in the county is virtually assured as news came of the approval of the plan by state WPA headquarters at Columbus. The certification would involve investigation of families which have been removed from direct relief and which contain able bodied male members.

Mr. Abel said news of the approval was given him in a telephone conversation with S. D. Downing of Sandusky, district WPA supervisor. The next step towards the actual authorization will be announced by Mr. Downing within a few days, Mr. Abel said.

The certification program will mean WPA jobs for many of the 135 families removed from direct relief last Saturday by county commissioners who ordered off all families with able bodied men. First word of the proposed certification came recently when Mr. Downing notified commissioners and Mr. Abel that the WPA quota for the district is not filled and will permit him to employ virtually all unemployed able bodied men in Marion county. The certification does not apply to women.

Wool Market

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, May 6—Mill demand for domestic wool was quiet today. Few buyers were willing to make commitments.

The price situation was irregular. Some holders of domestic wools were not inclined to make concessions in order to find outlets, while others shaded prices.

Fleece wools showed most weakness as some houses offered to sell at several cents below recent firm asking prices for wools in the grease. Lower quotations have not as yet stimulated mill interest.

STOCKS RECEDE UNDER SELLING

Few Specialties Hold Up but Rest of List Gives Way Under Mild Pressure.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 6—Traders flicked the stock market with small selling orders today and leading issues stepped back a few paces.

While the dragging motion of the ticker tape exemplified the lack of extreme pressure, declines of fractions to around a point were numerous near the fourth hour.

Except in the case of a handful of specialties, little attention was paid to a fairly favorable brand of business and industrial news.

Bonds and commodities were uneven and extraordinarily quiet. Foreign currencies shuffled over a restricted range.

Inclined to drift lower during the greater part of the proceedings were U. S. Steel, Republic, General Motors, Chrysler, American Telephone, Anaconda, American Smelting, Chesapeake & Ohio, U. S. Rubber and American Rolling Mill.

New strikes in General Motors plants at St. Louis kept this stock in the background.

London's settlement day, as anticipated by Wall Street, passed off without disturbance. Houses badly burned in recent commodity speculation paid up on schedule with the aid, in some instances, of other financial firms.

Although most steels lacked vitality, statisticians voiced the belief important companies in this line have yet to establish peak earnings. Optimism was expressed regarding profits for the second quarter because of the fact higher prices on finished products did not take effect until this time.

The financial district was encouraged by the manner in which recent new security offerings have been taken and the thought was advanced resumption of large scale refunding and financing by bonds and stocks is likely in the near future.

CORN PRICES BREAK RECORD OF 12 YEARS

May Delivery Bid Up to $1.35 as Traders Ignore Argentine Grain Arrival.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 6—Corn late today overtopped the high price record of the past 12 years.

May delivery of corn was bid up 2½ cents a bushel to $1.35¼, giving evidence that arrivals of Argentine corn here have failed to lessen anxiety of traders who are short of corn to meet contract requirements in the next few weeks. Uncompleted May corn contracts now outstanding total about 5,000,000 bushels, with stocks of corn almost zero.

At the close, corn was unchanged to 1¾ higher, compared with yesterday's finish, May 1.31¾, [illegible] July 1.20⅝, wheat ⅜ off to ¼ up, May 1.29⅜, July 1.18⅛, [illegible]

GAME LAWS UP FOR PUBLIC HEARINGS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 6—The state conservation department announced today that the first of a series of meetings in charge of the game committee would be held here May 25 to determine public opinion on game regulations. Game regulations expire on August 31 and decisions on game matters will be based partially on conclusions drawn from the meetings. Committee members are Joseph Stern of Dover, Ray Miller of Zanesville and Walter Kirk of Columbus.

PUBLISHER'S WIDOW CLAIMED BY DEATH

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 6 — Mrs. Adolph Ochs, widow of the publisher of the New York Times died suddenly early today at her home in White Plains.

She suffered a heart attack a short time ago and her death came a little more than two years after her husband died at Chattanooga, Tenn., April 8, 1935.

SENTENCE TO BE APPEALED

COLUMBUS, O., May 6—Counsel for William M. Gardner said today no appeal would be taken to the state supreme court from a district court of appeals decision which yesterday affirmed Gardner's tenth sentence for the robbery slaying of Arch B. Coyner, Columbus hotel clerk, on Jan. 25, 1935.

COLUMBUS, O., May 6—Relatives planned funeral services today for James Judy, 96-year-old Civil war veteran who was with General Sherman on his march to the sea, and who died last night. He was born near Washington C. H.

PLEASANT SCHOOL "SCIENCE FAIR" HELD

Exhibits Demonstrate Work of Township Pupils.

A "science fair" was held last night at the Pleasant Township school to acquaint parents and friends with some of the accomplishments of the science classes.

A large crowd viewed the exhibits, among which were a 6-room, partly furnished model home planned and built by the girls of the home economics classes; vocation agriculture exhibits of woodwork, electric wiring, machinery repair, rope work; biology and science, and displays of work done in Latin, world history and music. The grade pupils displayed classroom projects.

Twenty girls modeled spring outfits made by the girls of the ninth and tenth grades. Eighth grade science pupils gave demonstrations such as distillation of water, operation of a steam engine, source of water power and value of birds. First aid demonstrations were given by seventh grade pupils.

Arc lights, air pressure and hydrogen experiments were demonstrated by high school pupils.

All of the demonstrations were given on the auditorium stage, and at the close the seventh grade English classes presented two original short plays.

Patrons of the "fair" asked that it be made an annual part of the spring school program, according to E. E. Banning, superintendent.

2 MARION GIRLS REPORTED MISSING

Two Marion girls, Betty Harrington, 14, and Marilyn Harrington, 12, last night were reported to police as missing from their home. The report was made by their father, Clyde Harrington of 351 West Fairground street. The girls left the home for school yesterday and did not return last night. The father told police they might go to Bellefontaine, Ind., where relatives are living.

SECREST PRESSES FOR FLOOD CONTROL

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 6—Rep. Robert T. Secrest, the Caldwell, O., Democrat, took issue with President Roosevelt today over the President's proposal to delay action on much of a proposed federally-financed flood control program.

Secrest said he hoped the house flood control committee would proceed with original plans to recommend congressional approval of immediate flood protection work, particularly in the Ohio river valley, and expected to present his views at a committee meeting today.

Account of Aisne-Marne Action Related at Marion Reserve Chapter Meeting.

A military description of the Aisne-Marne salient from July 18-22 in 1918, one of the first and most severe major engagements of American forces in the World war, was given by Maj. Walter R. McClure of the U. S. army at Toledo in a special dinner meeting of the Marion County Chapter of United States Reserve Officers at Hotel Marion last night. Now an instructor in infantry, Major McClure was in the thick of the fighting with the First division and rose from the command of company to command of a battalion.

Three Marion men who served with the First division were guests at the meeting. They are T. E. Kinnear who was in the Aisne-Marne action, Thomas Hurley, county sealer, who arrived in France immediately after the action, and Roy Waddell, who arrived about two months later.

The Aisne and Marne are two rivers, the Aisne being about 35 miles north of the Marne. Allied forces had been pushed back from the Aisne to the Marne by a superior German force, when the First division arrived and in less than a week recovered the entire salient.

Major McClure, commanding a company of 250 men, attacked a hill which only 30 men reached without being wounded or killed. The battalion of 1,080 men had been reduced to 41 men and one officer in the fighting and Major McClure was chosen to command the shattered force. It had been one of the first operations of the First division.

J. W. Llewellyn, one of the senior reserve officers and in charge of the reserve school here, presided at the meeting.

Election of officers will be held at the next meeting May 19 at the armory. Last night's meeting was attended by 18 from the county.

MARION GROUP IN WILLARD PROGRAM

Members of Eclipse Favorite No. 10, Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, exemplified the memorial service at the annual meeting of the Ohio State association in Willard Tuesday. During the service Mrs. Viola Kelly played a violin solo, and Mrs. Mary Schill sang a solo accompanied by Mrs. Kelly. A meeting of the men's organization also was held at the same time. Mrs. O. Haver is pianist of the auxiliary.

Attending from Marion were Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bonecutter, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Reitig, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Straubaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Foraker, Mr. and Mrs. O. Haver, Mr. and Mrs. James Eddy, Mrs. B. R. Stauffer, Mrs. Everett Bonecutter, Mrs. Homer Plane, Mrs. Francis Schill, Mrs. Mary Runkler and Mrs. Norval Foreman, a candidate who was initiated during the meeting. The next meeting will be held at Toledo. Mrs. Mabel Bonecutter of Marion will represent the local auxiliary at the national convention to be held at Milwaukee in June. The 1936 state meeting was held in Marion.

Softball Season Plans Before Commission Friday

SHORTAGE OF TEAMS MAY REDUCE NUMBER OF LEAGUES TO THREE

Elimination of Friday Night Loop Discussed, First Games Set for May 17

Detailed plans for the 1937 softball season including the compiling of season schedule will come before the Marion Softball commission members when they meet Friday night at the Y. M. C. A.

The session is set for 7 o'clock and the city governing body will go to work to complete arrangements for the summer season to open a week from Monday. Reports will be heard from both the rules and grounds committee. [illegible] Sieferi president of the group will preside.

Possibility that the organized program may be reduced to three leagues was seen in comments of commissioners who favor dropping the Friday night loop. The reason given is the shortage of teams. An unusual situation has arisen in connection with the Friday night league which was first planned as a wide open conference with no eligibility rules.

The commission however ruled that no team would be permitted to play in both the Industrial league on Thursday night and the free-for-all loop Friday night. Because they could not enter both leagues several teams did not file applications for participation in the Friday night affair.

Rosters of the Sunday school loops No. 1 and No. 2 which will be in action on Monday and Tuesday nights respectively apparently are complete. Twelve clubs have filed in the Sunday school loops which may this year revert to six team memberships. Last year eight teams were included in each league.

Listed among the teams entered for Sunday school competition are Wesley No. 1, Trinity Baptist, Forest Lawn, Lee Street, Epworth No. 1, Calvary Evangelical, Central Christian, Wesley No. 2, Epworth Bishops, Salem Evangelical, Greenwood Evangelical and Emanuel Lutheran. Industrial league entries are Huber Mfg. Co., Fairfield Engineering Co., Defiance Pressed Steel Co., Omar Baking Co., Osgood Co., with the possibility that both the Marion Steam Shovel and General Excavator companies will also be represented.

In addition to fixing the league rosters and making preliminary plans for setting up the league schedules commission members will consider plans to outlaw the practice of early season postponement or forfeiting of games. The problem previously came before the softball board but action was deferred.

M'AFEE TEAM WINS IN TARGET MATCH

By a margin of 23 points Capt. T. P. McAfee's No. 4 team defeated Capt. Ross Groll's No. 1 club in a target match of the Marion Revolver association on the range at the Eagles building last night. Leo Groll of the defeated quintet led in individual scoring with 261 points out of a possible 300.

It was announced at the session that the association will hold a business meeting on the range Friday night at 7:30 o'clock. Complete results of last night's match follows: Team No. 4—Capt. McAfee 249, William L. Marks 2?7, Kenneth Strine 25?, R. S. Slagle 2?4, W. R. Lawrence Jr. 250, total 1,203. Team No. 1: Capt. R. Groll 259, Leo Groll 261, R. L. Copeland 193, Walter Bailey ?, Clyde Hardin 233, total 1,180.

Yanks Sign Red Ruffing, Last Big League Holdout

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, May 6.—Charley (Red) Ruffing, last major league holdout, donned a New York Yankee uniform again today after signing a 1937 contract in which the [illegible] club made no concession.

The Yank right-hander, pitcher who won 20 games for the world champions last season, asked first [illegible] for $17,000 but was [illegible] [illegible]. The club manager offered Ruffing $15,000 several weeks ago. He held out for $17,000.

Recently Ruffing weakened and offered to compromise at $15,500 but the management refused to concede anything. The club pointed out at that time that Ruffing received $12,000 last season.

It was estimated that by holding out approximately $1,000 [illegible] [illegible]. His [illegible] [illegible] increased $5,000 [illegible] [illegible] years but he lost [illegible] the increase by holding out.

NEW YORK, May 6.—Jack Dempsey [illegible] is out from running around the country refereeing wrestling matches. He's going up to Charlie Miller's Maine camp for a good rest. Looks like Lou Ambers will be at least 12 to 5 over Tony Canzoneri tomorrow night.

[illegible] Traynor should have got tough a couple of years earlier.

He's been what the boys call a hard-boiled egg this season and look where those Buccos are roosting. When Johnny Marcum of the Red Sox went to fill out his social security blank he couldn't remember his Pop's name. "Seems to me they call him Ben," said Johnny. "Benjamin?" asked his helper. "No," replied Johnny, "just Ben."

They're really going to charge $100 tops for Bob Pastor and Bob Nestell in Los Angeles May 21. Catcher Roy Spencer didn't lose any time getting acquainted with the Dodger pitching staff. Five were rushed to the hill to greet him the first day he worked behind the bat and four the second.

Paddy Driscoll, new Marquette coach, says drop kicking is a lost art. In his day he was one of the best. To date the Vines-Perry pro tennis tour has grossed $112,000, far surpassing the previous high of $458,000 set by Vines and Bill Tilden. Bill O'Brien, pioneer pro tennis promoter, says the game is on the skids with no salvation in sight unless a new star with box office appeal can be found.

REDS' JINX HAUNTS FARM TEAM, TOO

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O., May 6.—Cincinnati's Reds, who have had plenty of trouble hitting a winning stride in the National league, found out today that their tough luck is shared by their Bisbee, Ariz. farm club.

Manager Mickey Shader and 11 of his players spent the entire night recently in a bus stranded on the Arizona desert between Bisbee and Albuquerque. They had no bedding and no food while they sat shivering in the bus throughout the night.

Finally at 7:30 a. m. a truck loaded with highway workers came along and found the clogged feed line that had caused all the trouble.

STEEL TEAM BOOKS 2 PRACTICE GAMES

Members of the Defiance Pressed Steel Co.'s team entered in the Industrial softball league have booked two practice games. [illegible] Kern, manager, has announced. One will be played with the Osgood Co. team at the Commercial Steel Castings Co. diamond Friday night at 6:30. The other will be with the Keytown Camp team next Sunday at 2:15 p. m. at the Pleasant township school diamond.

REDS BREAK LOSING STREAK BY SETTING DOWN GIANTS, 8-5

Kampouris Clubs Two of Cincinnati's Four Homers Cleveland Rained Out

BY SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Even the most veteran viewer with alarm couldn't find a thing to worry about today for those New York Yankees.

Barring the vague possibility of a couple of broken legs or a cut with a Dean strike, there wasn't a dark cloud within shouting distance.

On top of the return of their hitting power and the unusual skill of their supposedly question mark pitching staff, the world champions were as full of cheer as a Christmas punch bowl over the overnight signing of Charley the Red Ruffing, their No. 1 hurler of 1936.

They started their winning streak three days ago in second place, a game back of the Tigers. Given the nut they love best to crack, they walloped the Detroiters twice in a row, turning in a 7-3 win yesterday, with George Selkirk socking two homers and Monte Pearson posting an eight-hit eight-strikeout performance that dropped the Tigers into second place and pulled the swat squad to the top by a full game.

Although pitchers generally came a dime a dozen on yesterday's big league program, the great Dizzy Dean and Cy Blanton, along with Pearson, were notable exceptions. Dizzy had little trouble with the Bees and, aided by five Gas House homers, turned in his fourth straight victory, a 11-1 win over the Boston Bees.

Blanton, top flinger of the Pittsburgh Pirates' crack staff, fanned eight and allowed but five hits in pitching the Bucs to a 5-1 over the Brooklyn Dodgers, their fourth straight, to keep the Pittsburgers a game and a half in front in the National League.

The New York Giants pitching, in the person of fat Freddy Fitzsimmons and his knuckleball, was given a thorough going over by Cincinnati's aroused Red. With Alex Kampouris clubbing two of four Red homers the roughhouse Reds won their second victory of the season, 8-5, over the National League champions. Also in a homer-hammering mood were the Cubs, who belted the Phillies 17-4 to stretch their streak to five straight.

Outside of the Yanks-Tigers tussle, the only other American league game was in Chicago, where the Athletics staged a six-run rally in the eighth to top the White Sox 7-1. The Red Sox-St. Louis Browns and Washington-Cleveland Indians tilts were rained out.

Eliminations Completed for County Track Meet

Athletes from six rural high and grade schools met yesterday afternoon at Prospect to complete the last of the eliminations for the annual county track meet to be held there Saturday. Another previous mark was bettered yesterday, bringing to four the number of records broken during the eliminations. Only one final race was held, the high school medley relay, in which Pleasant township's entry copped first place, with Prospect finishing a strong second.

Ralston of Pleasant grabbed the honor of breaking a fourth county record by setting a new mark in the grade 440-yard dash. The youth broke the tape in 58.4 seconds, bettering the former mark by a full 2.5 seconds. The previous record was held by W. Hill of Prospect and was made during the meet last year.

As a result of the elimination Prospect school leads in both the high school and grade divisions with the largest number of qualifiers for the finals. Prospect qualified the largest number in the upper bracket and eight in the grade competition, followed by Pleasant township. [illegible] will have one less participant in the final of each division.

MAY DROP BUCYRUS, MANSFIELD CONTEST

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, May 6 — Whether Bucyrus will meet Mansfield High on the gridiron next fall is still a matter of speculation. An agreement was expected Tuesday when Principal Jesse Veer of Mansfield brought his high school students to Bucyrus for an exchange assembly here but financial matters blocked a settlement, according to Principal Charles Davis of Bucyrus High.

A basketball game with the Tygers, who recently withdrew from the North Central Ohio league, is definitely out, Mr. Davis said. The reason given was that Bucyrus already has a 16-game cage schedule and officials do not wish to enlarge it. Definite action of a football meeting between the two schools is expected in the near future.

JAIL FUGITIVES SOUGHT IN KENTON

Special to The Star

KENTON, May 6.—Kenton police today were watching homes of friends here for Robert Palmer, 43, and Kenneth Hogue, 2[illegible], who escaped from the Logan county jail at Bellefontaine Tuesday night. Hogue was a trusty at the institution and released Palmer, it was said here. They stole a 38 caliber revolver belonging to Sheriff John Bewley.

JEWELRY DUMPING MYSTERY SOLVED

Police yesterday afternoon talked to a Marion woman who was reported to have thrown a quantity of old jewelry into a sewer on West Center street in the business district earlier in the day. Chief Marks reported there were no questionable circumstances in connection with the incident, the woman explaining her act and that she was disposing of some articles for which she had no further use. Among the articles were an alarm clock and a badly worn dollar watch.

UNION RIVALRY REPORTED IN MILL

By The Associated Press

STEUBENVILLE, O., May 6.—Paul Rusen, sub-regional director for the Ohio Valley Steel Workers Organizing committee, today charged a rival faction of the C. I. O. attempted to precipitate a strike in the hot mill and black rolls department of the Weirton steel plant in Wheeling.

Rusen said 100 men headed by Claude Conaway, an official of the Tin Mill Security league, invaded the hot mill and black rolls department late last night, turned off the power and called on the night shift workers to get rid of their C. I. O. cards.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, lumbago, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

KIWANIANS ATTEND MEETING AT TIFFIN

Delegation of 29 Marionites Among 13 Clubs Present for Session

A delegation of 29 Marion Kiwanians last night attended a meeting of the Fourth Ohio division of Kiwanis at Tiffin that marked the conclusion of a series of inter club meetings in the division. A fellowship chest was carried from one club to another in inter club sessions since Feb 1 and completed its journey among the 13 clubs in the division when Fostoria delivered it to Tiffin last night.

Z M Walter of Lockland Ohio district Kiwanis governor of Ohio gave the principal address.

The Marion club won one of three awards given last night. It was for having 775 man miles on the Marion club's recent trip to Carey to deliver the fellowship chest. Mt Gilead won another for the largest number of man miles on the Tiffin trip last night and Fremont received an award for having the highest average attendance for February March and April.

The Marion delegation was headed by J J Huebner president and Clarence Snyder chairman of the Marion inter club committee.

The trip to Tiffin took the place of the club's Thursday luncheon program for this week but a round table luncheon without a program was held at Hotel Marion today to permit members unable to attend last night to keep up their attendance records.

Great Variety of Hobbies Opens Way To Do Good for Ourselves and for Others, Y Secretary Says

The following article on "The Value of a Hobby" was written by Earl N. Hale general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in the interest of the annual hobby and handicraft show for Marion county boys and girls on May 13-15 at the Y. Mr Hale is one of the city's best known hobby "riders."

[illegible] —What [illegible] ... we ... [illegible] ... There are ... we ... [illegible] ... enrich and ... [illegible] ... eased. I say ... [illegible] ... a hobby one will go to all sorts of extremes and I say enthusiastically because one does not have a hobby without trying to convert others to the same hobby.

In presenting the subject—The Value of a Hobby—I wish to divide it into ... parts—First, to enumerate some of the more common hobbies—then to point out a few of the dangers of having a hobby and finally to give one of the outstanding values of a hobby.

To endeavor to write down all the hobbies that may be found would be a stupendous task and prove to be ... times more ... of us as many pages would be necessary merely to list them.

Some time ago I read about a man whose hobby was the collecting of shoes that had been worn by celebrated and notorious characters. In his collection were shoes that had been worn by Theodore Roosevelt and Harry Thaw. In order to get these shoes he went to all kinds of trouble and no little expense. He had glass show cases built especially to hold them. I imagine he must have had some kind of fumigating outfit so that his exhibits might be approached even though they were placed in glass cases.

History In Cartoons

Can you imagine 30,000 cartoons of Uncle Sam and no two of them alike?

If every manuscript and printed page of American history of the past 20 years were obliterated from the earth and my collection of Uncle Sam cartoons alone remained the history of the United States for that period could be quickly and accurately written. These are the words of a Chicago society woman, Mrs. D. Harry Hammer, who many years ago conceived the idea of making a collection of cartoons illustrating various subjects. As Mrs. Hammer's collection of cartoons began to increase her interest and attention were steadily drawn to that grim old figure which is now a familiar character wherever printed paper is read. From dozens the list grew into hundreds and then thousands and is still growing.

No such an assemblage of Uncle Sams exists anywhere else in the world and all the money of a Rockefeller or the mandate of a ruler could not replace it. As her Uncle Sam cartoons increased in number she was led to search for the original one. It proved to be a long and hard task leading her all over this country and finally to England. Her enterprise and patience were rewarded when she found that the original Uncle Sam cartoon appeared in Punch, published in London in 1842 and was called Yankee Doodle Doo. Later his name there was modified to the more dignified Brother Jonathan. Gradually the figure and name were changed until in 189[illegible] Thomas Nast gave us the Uncle Sam as we know him today.

I understand that Theodore Roosevelt had clippings made of all the cartoons that were made about him. He was very much interested in them and had many a chuckle over them.

High Priced Stamp

Not so very long ago a representative of Arthur Hind of Utica, N. Y. went to Paris and in the open market paid $32,500 for a postage stamp. This stamp was the British Guiana one cent red issued in 1856.

Some years ago three men were seated at a card table on an ocean liner Europe bound. These men were Andrew Carnegie, J. Pierpont Morgan and Henry J. Duveen of New York and London. Mr. Carnegie who knew Mr. Duveen as a stamp collector as well as a lover of fine bric a brac, vases and other rare objects of art, made some casual remark about Duveen's stamp collection.

On exclaimed Mr. Morgan, "I didn't know you were a stamp collector, Duveen. Have you a good collection?"

"I believe I have one of the most valuable collections in America," said Mr. Duveen.

Is that so?" said Mr. Morgan. [illegible] ... Well ... [illegible] ... you ... [illegible] ... he gave ... paid the handsome ... [illegible] ... have ... [illegible]

Nature opens up to the man who has a hobby a vast and varied field of interest and activity. Some of ... this realm ... birds ... flowers ... rocks ... gardening ... fishing and the breeding of fancy poultry, pet ... horses, cattle ... [illegible]

This enough to have brought ... the vast ... and ... appeal ... those ... some kind of a hobby. ... Few people have ... It might well be put down as an axiomatic truth that if we have ever ... a belief or interest in something that ... then we are a full fledged hobbyist.

With the coming of the possession of every good thing we have ... new dangers. The automobile ... is one thing that has changed American life as perhaps no other one thing has ever done. The automobile has given us some very great dangers. One's life and safety is constantly imperiled by it whether we walk or ride. But who among us would ... the automobile.

Danger of Selfishness

Having a hobby gives one many good things but it likewise carries with it some dangers. Some people in riding their hobby disregard every one else and think only of themselves. It is a debatable question however if the hobby is the real cause of the danger or if the hobby merely affords the expression of some bad trait in a man's life. For instance many times a person in riding his hobby shows a big streak of selfishness in his make up. His only concern seems to be the possession of something that no one else has. He wants to strut around and give us the impression that he is it. What is the cause of this covetousness, his hobby or a trait of character in his make up that finds a way out through his hobby?

Let us now consider the question—What is the value of a hobby? Some answers we have gotten from what I have already said.

A hobby will increase and broaden our knowledge. When we are out in a group of men or women what do we talk about, the weather or our neighbors? Ride a hobby and talk about it and listen to others talk about their hobby. We will soon forget all about the scandal of the newspapers and the gossip of our neighborhood.

No matter how busy we are there is always some leisure time. What do we do with it? Our answer ... in a great way determines ... the success ... we equal ... [illegible] ... hobby ... the use ... [illegible] ... I ... people ... young people ... people ... hobby ... has been ... dyspepsia we will always find to be a most interesting person. They have a fresh ... They are ... growing. They have ... life ... therefore ... having a hobby ... helps ... as he grows old to keep ... cheerful, optimistic and agreeable.

Enjoying Life

A word in common use today is recreation. Everywhere we find people discussing the ways and means of providing the right kind of recreation for young people and old people. We have learned that if we are to enjoy life and to have our lives function most efficiently we must do things as children do them in their play life. Our work we must enjoy and in it we must throw ourselves with complete abandon if we are to make a success of it. Having a real hobby will help us when we are tired and need a change. It will help us re-create ourselves.

A few years ago in the city of Providence, R. I. a vote was taken ... the ... most ... about ... ten ... men ... age into ... university men and many ... were ... to ... give first place ... STEEL PRODUCERS FACE STRIKE THREAT

Murray Warns of Walkout Unless Independents Sign Wage and Hour Pacts

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, May 6 — Independent steel producers who refused to recognize the Steel Workers Organizing committee faced today a blunt threat of strikes in their plants and coal mines.

Philip Murray, lieutenant of John L. Lewis in the campaign to unionize the country's steel workers, warned the independents last night that the union would call a strike if necessary to win agreement on wages, hours and working conditions.

The independents, he charged, have formed an unholy alliance against contracts with the committee and as a result would face a [illegible] in their coal mines within 48 hours.

The committee, he reiterated for the third time this week, would not be responsible for keeping its members at work for independents who decline to sign agreements.

J. A. Vo[illegible], director of industrial relations for the company, told the committee that in view of the Wagner act he could see no [illegible] for a signed contract. He added, however, that he would be willing to meet committee spokesmen May 11 in Cleveland.

To that Murray observed:

"I can't see any reason for meeting with a man who [illegible] by refusing to sign a contract."

Murray said he had been advised by counsel that the national labor relations board has the power under the Wagner act to determine who is to be labor's representative [illegible] to have the power [illegible] the signing of a contract.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—A senate committee [illegible] took today [illegible] the facts about the [illegible] purchase of control of the [illegible] railroad network [illegible] estimated value.

Chairman Wheeler (Dem.) of Montana, of the senate finance committee, said far-reaching legislation [illegible] of railroad holding companies might result from the inquiry.

He summoned Robert R. Young, Frank F. Kolbe and Allan P. Kirby to explain their acquisition for $6,375,000 of securities controlling the Van Sweringen transportation empire from George A. Ball, elderly Indiana glass-maker and Republican national committeeman.

Through a towering pyramid of holding companies these securities carry command of $3,000,000,000 worth of properties—among them seven major railway systems, coal pits, fashionable hotels, bus lines, and midwestern office buildings.

[illegible] whose real name was William Deane Tanner, directed Miss Minter in several pictures and was the friend of many film notables in his day.

He was shot in the back and killed on the evening of Feb. 1, 1922. The slaying was discovered the next morning by his Negro houseman.

The last person known to have talked with Taylor before his death was the late Mabel Normand, then a reigning comedienne. She bade him adieu approximately 45 minutes prior to the shooting, police determined.

Police began a long and fruitless search for Edward Sands, Taylor's missing valet, who had been discharged by the director after a series of robberies in his bachelor quarters.

Slaying a Puzzle For 15 Years

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, May 6—William Desmond Taylor, the silent screen director, has been an enigma in police history ever since he was shot to death 15 years ago.

A bullet in his back, his body was found face upward on his living room floor Feb. 2, 1922 by Henry Peavey, Negro butler.

Edna Purviance, leading lady for Charlie Chaplin, heard Peavey's excited cry in her apartment next door.

Douglas MacLean, film comedian, and his wife rushed from their residence across the court yard.

The first detective to arrive thought Taylor had died of a heart attack. The officer was writing his report when Charles Eyton, then general manager of Famous Players-Lasky studios, raised the body of his friend. "Good God, he's been murdered—he's been shot," Eyton exclaimed.

Into the headline case were drawn Mabel Normand and Mary Miles Minter and a host of other film personalities who had known Taylor. None could throw light on his death.

Robbery was not a motive. Taylor had $78 in his wallet, jewelry on his person when his body was found.

Miss Normand said she had borrowed a book from him the previous evening, 45 minutes before Mrs. MacLean said she heard a shot that may have marked his slaying.

Love letters from Miss Minter were in his personal effects. She said they were in love and engaged [illegible]

Although Taylor was in the movie big money, he had only $6,000 in the bank and cancelled checks for staggering amounts drawn for cash only. Yet his bachelor existence reputedly was [illegible]

Theories were advanced that he had spent large sums because he had been fighting the establishment of a narcotic ring in the film colony and had been blackmailed as a result.

His former valet, Edward Sands, who had disappeared after Taylor accused him of theft, was hunted for years by police for questioning.

No one has ever been arrested and charged with Taylor's murder.

INDEPENDENT COURT DEMANDED BY HUGHES

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 6.—Chief Justice Hughes said today a competent and independent judiciary must parallel legislative and executive institutions in order to safeguard individual rights.

"The firm and true administration of justice is thus the primary concern of civilized society," he told the American Law Institute.

"The success of Democratic institutions lies in the success of the processes of reason as opposed to the tyranny of force. If society chooses the processes of reason it must maintain the institutions which embody those processes."

The chief justice did not mention President Roosevelt's proposal to enlarge the supreme court unless members over 70 retire.

He pointed out, however, that the court is up in its work as it approaches the close of a term.

FARMER INJURED IN CRASH AT BUCYRUS

By The Associated Press

BUCYRUS, O., May 6—C. J. Durigg, 50, dairy farmer, escaped with a dislocated right shoulder and facial lacerations when his automobile was struck by a Pennsylvania shuttle freight train last night at 10 in Bucyrus. His general condition was reported to be good at the City hospital where he was taken following the accident.

Mr. Durigg was enroute to his home east of Bucyrus when the accident occurred. He said he did not hear a warning bell, it was reported. His car was badly damaged.

Senate May Return at Governor's Request To Consider Budget Bill

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 6—The possibility of two special sessions this summer [illegible] regular session of the Ohio legislature was projected today by Gov. Martin L. Davey.

Although he said he would ask Democratic leader Keith Lawrence to call the senate back next Monday to consider the biennial budget bill approved by the house, he [illegible] he thought another [illegible] might be necessary to provide funds for running the state government for two years.

friend and spokesman for Mrs. Simpson and her former host at Cannes, will give the bride in marriage.

To Honeymoon in Austria

Soon after the wedding, the couple are expected to leave the chateau. Redecoration of their prospective honeymoon retreat in southern Austria, Wasserleonburg castle, will be completed about June 1. Edward rented the Austrian castle for $500 a month.

Perhaps a week will lapse between the coronation and Edward's marriage in line with the duke's plan to detract as little attention as possible from the London celebration.

Plans for after the honeymoon, it was said authoritatively, were still uncertain. One project understood to be under consideration would take the duke and duchess on a [illegible] tour of Africa and the British colonies.

Mrs. Simpson's wedding gown, the creation of a Paris fashion house, is nearly ready. Her spokesman, Herman L. Rogers of New York, another chateau guest, [illegible] she had ordered new clothes and that the order includes the dress she will wear at her wedding.

Apparently the former British monarch had in a manner won his first argument with the future duchess—if an argument it was—for it was learned last night she had consented to an Austrian honeymoon of several months duration amid the Alpine lakes of southern Austria.

The castle, a 40-room structure built in 1250 and rebuilt in 1747, has beautiful gardens and a simple chapel. It stands near Arnoldstein, Carinthia, near the junction of the Austrian, Italian and Yugoslav frontiers.

Couple Asks for License But Girl Returns With Another Man

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 6—Seventeen-year-old Ruth Ballenger walked into the office of Carl Brock, marriage license clerk, Monday with Charles Hillen, 21, of Millfield, O.

They applied for a marriage license and were told to return in five days.

Yesterday Miss Ballenger appeared with Leroy Ayres, 26, of Columbus, to get a license.

"How about this other fellow, Hillen?" asked Brock.

"I changed my mind. I like this man better," replied the girl. She added that Hillen had been informed of her plan to marry Ayres.

Brock said the first application would be canceled.

POISON TEST MADE IN TORSO KILLING

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., May 6—Coroner Samuel R. Gerber started today tests for poison origins in the fragment of a woman's torso found about a mile from shore in Lake Erie yesterday and identified as matching the upper half of a torso discovered in February—Cleveland's eighth torso slaying since September, 1934.

The coroner, who agreed with Detective Sergeant James T. Hogan that the find opened up no other avenue for investigation, said the tests would require two weeks.

SEWING CENTER NOW EMPLOYS 91 WOMEN

Morning and Afternoon Shifts Maintained To Keep Work Roll at High Mark

[illegible] sewing center [illegible] women [illegible] the [illegible] now [illegible] the group employed [illegible] the Marion sewing center according to figures released today from WPA headquarters. [illegible] The first shift was from 8 a. m. to [illegible] and the second from noon to [illegible] p. m.

The purpose of the change was to provide employment for a larger number of women without increasing the necessary facilities and space. Each week the sewing center which is operated under the WPA program for the county has an average production of 375 garments.

For these garments which include street and house clothes for infants, children, men and women, approximately 1,100 yards of cotton material is required. At the present time the center is located in the first floor of the relief headquarters building on South Prospect street, having recently moved from a North State street location.

Mrs. Jennie Crane of 3[illegible]1 South High street is in charge of the work. The garments produced are stored at the relief building and distributed as needed to the direct relief clients. The distribution, however, is handled under a different department. For the most part the women use sewing machines for the work, 45 of them being in operation during the day. With the change to two work shifts it has been possible to keep the employment in the neighborhood of 90.

DRAMATIC GROUP TO HOLD DINNER

Ye Merrie Players Plan Banquet May 13

The annual banquet of Ye Merrie Players, senior dramatic group of Harding High school, will be held Thursday night, May 13, at the First Presbyterian church.

One hundred or more members and guests will be present. Clever invitations were issued this week by a committee composed of Martha Jane Roge[illegible], Margaret Young and Eileen Caldwell.

In addition to invited guests and the cast of the 193[illegible] play "Queen Victoria," all those who assisted in any way with the production will be present.

Miss Lucile Foreman, director, is the club faculty sponsor.

Committees have been named to arrange for stunts and toasts and Elizabeth Stinson will be in charge of table decorations.

Marriage Meddlers

BY ADELE GARRISON

What Is Significance Behind Mary's Surprise?

ACROSS MARY'S head Dicky signaled a query to me as she asked if we were going to let her tell us what was in the mind.

I nodded for I saw that the hot tea as well as her relief at getting to us had banished her hysteria and her weakness. Her strength was adequate for the strain of any revelation she might make and I knew that her nerves would be much less taut when she had told us the reason for her flight to us—I knew that no other word could describe her journey.

"Same old Uncle Dicky, the best and the most amusing in the world," she told him. Dicky rose and swept into a most elaborate bow, hand to hip, as if he held a plumed hat in his hand.

"For the love of all the prophets," he ejaculated, "can the compliments and get down to brass tacks. Your aunt and I are going to explode from suppressed curiosity if you don't begin this spiel pretty soon."

"I was ready when I first came in," Mary reminded him slyly, "but I'm glad you shut me off. I wasn't fit to talk then. I probably would have broken down and blubbered all over the lot."

Veritzen Unpredictable

Dicky made a gesture of exasperation which fortunately Mary did not see. I put a direct question to her.

"Has Mr. Veritzen said anything to upset you dear?"

Mary's lovely, mutinous mouth curved into a mocking smile.

"I don't know that you'd call it upsetting," she said, "but it's a bit—well shall we say exciting to have him tell me he's going to bring me out as a star in two or three months."

"What?"

Dicky and I uttered the exclamation as with one voice, and Mary looked at us curiously.

"You don't seem to approve."

"We don't understand," Dicky said, and I nodded again. "Phil Veritzen never did a thing like that in his life before. You're a lovely thing, Mary, and you have real talent, but you're not ready for stardom yet. You know that as well as we do and nobody knows it better than Phil Veritzen. So why, why, why?"

Mary Is Confused

"That's what's eating me, darlings," Mary said, her bright face clouded. "He has something up his sleeve, and I've worn my brains out trying to figure out what it is. You don't suppose he has such a secret hatred for me that he's planning to have me fail publicly?"

"I hit that out of you noodle right now, Mary," her uncle told her. "I'm not putting the meanness of such a thing past old Phil. I think he'd poison his mother if she got in the way of some scheme of his."

"Dicky!" I exclaimed reproachfully, and he had the grace to look a trifle ashamed of himself.

"I fancy I was a bit strong there," he said with a grin. "Let's say he just wouldn't put hyoscin in her tea or something like that, and not really poison her. But he's not—overscrupulous, shall I say?" He cocked an impudent eyebrow at me.

"I think that may do," I said demurely, and Mary struck in impatiently.

"But Uncle Dicky, I don't understand. If you say he's mean enough to do it, why should I put it out of my mind?"

"Mary, child," Dicky asked with mock solemnity, "did you ever hear of anything [illegible] the art [illegible] science?"

350 EAGLES AT MEETING HERE

Election of Officers and Minstrel Show Feature Session, Many Visitors Present

Three hundred and fifty members of aeries in Marion, Crestline, Shelby, Amherst, Upper Sandusky, Carey and Kenton attended one of the outstanding 1937 programs [illegible] meetings of Buckeye Aerie No. 337, Fraternal Order of Eagles last night in the Eagle hall.

Officers headed by William Woessner as president were elected in the business session, and in the program hour which followed there was a minstrel show sponsored by the Buckeye aerie quartet, in which Ed Sharpless, once known in this country and abroad [illegible] Great Raynard, gave an exhibition of his proficiency as a ventriloquist.

Members of the quartet, each of whom did a solo selection, are John McAndrews, second tenor; Arthur Ward, baritone; Carl Irvin, bass, and Howard Orr, first tenor. Earl Malloy is the accompanist.

Songs included Minette, Diva, Are Here Again, Alexander's Ragtime Band, When Irish Eyes Are Smiling, When My Dream Boat Comes Home, When That Midnight Choo Choo Leaves for Alabam and When the Rainbow Shines Bright at Morn.

The quartet which has won honors in three national contests will compete at the 1937 national convention at Chicago in August.

JAIL FUGITIVES SOUGHT IN KENTON

Special to The Star

KENTON, May 6. Kenton police today were watching homes of friends here for Robert Palmer, 18, and Kenneth Hogue, 27, who escaped from the Logan county jail at Bellefontaine Tuesday night. Hogue was a trusty at the institution and released Palmer, it was said here. They stole a 38 caliber revolver belonging to Sheriff John Bewley.

JEWELRY DUMPING MYSTERY SOLVED

Police yesterday afternoon talked to a Marion woman who was reported to have thrown a quantity of old jewelry into a sewer on West Center street in the business district earlier in the day. Chief Marks reported there were no questionable circumstances in connection with the incident, the woman explaining, he said, that she was disposing of some articles for which she had no further use. Among the articles were an alarm clock and a badly worn dollar watch.

UNION RIVALRY REPORTED IN MILL

By The Associated Press

STEUBENVILLE, O., May 6. Paul Rusen, sub-regional director for the Ohio Valley Steel Workers Organizing committee, today charged a rival faction of the C. I. O. attempted to precipitate a strike in the hot mill and black rolls department of the Weirton steel plant in Wheeling.

Rusen said 100 men headed by Claude Conaway, an official of the Tin Mill Security league, invaded the hot mill and black rolls department late last night, turned off the power and called on the night shift workers to get rid of their C. I. O. cards.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, lumbago, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

St. Mary Seniors Prepare for Graduation Events

The crowning of the statue of the blessed Virgin Sunday, May 23, and the annual graduation exercises the following Sunday, May 30, will bring to a close the school activities for a class of 28 seniors of St. Mary Parochial High school.

Miss Edith Mary Fahey, daughter of Edward Fahey of 317 West Church street, has been chosen to crown the statue and her attendant will be Miss Mary Martha Luke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Luke of 201 East Mark street.

To be chosen to place the crown on the head of the statue of the Blessed Virgin is the highest honor that can be bestowed on a senior girl and the selection is made annually by a combined vote of the junior and senior classes and the school faculty.

The exercises will be held in the afternoon and all pupils of the school from the fifth grade through the upper grades and high school will take part in the procession. The occasion also will mark the first time the senior class will appear in their caps and gowns. May hymns appropriate to the occasion will be sung by the pupils and the services will close with benediction.

The graduation exercises will be held at 4 p. m. on May 30 in the church. The class includes Misses Ernestine Basinger, Carmella Britz, Ann Brooks, Ruth Conard, Jane Enders, Josephine Ettore, Edith Mary Fahey, Clara Jeanet, Mary Jane Lenz, Mary Martha Luke, Catherine Munzer, Mary Rita Murphy, Helen Sansotta, Adele G. Smith, Theresa Tobin, Kathleen Trainor and Mary Jane Weisent, Francis Bender, Clark Byrnes, John Coulter, Gale Greenland, John Jenner, Robert O'Neil, Anthony Rizzo, Joseph Robbins, Anthony D'Iano, Robert Watters and Francis Winstead.

The seniors will be guests of the juniors at a breakfast the morning of the graduation ceremonies.

FUNERAL SERVICES FRIDAY

The funeral of Mrs. Alice B. Brown, who died yesterday at Brush Ridge, will be conducted Friday at 2 p. m. at the home. Elder Levi Hite of the Primitive Baptist church will officiate. Burial will be made in the Grand Prairie cemetery. Friends may call at the home until funeral time.

COURT NEWS

Answer, Cross Petition

Marie F. Neuman, administratrix of the estate of Edward F. Neuman, filed her answer and cross petition in common pleas court to the supplemental petition of Henry J. Neuman in his suit for partition against William H. Neuman and others. The property involved is two tracts totaling 74 acres in Tully township.

In her cross petition the answering defendant states the proceeds from the sale of the real estate will be needed to pay the debts of the estate. The supplemental petition stated that in view of the recent death of Edward F. Neuman, the administratrix should be a party defendant.

Petition Amended

An amended petition was filed yesterday in common pleas court in the suit of Dale Stiffler against Robert Moore of Damascus, O., for $5,200 damages as a result of an auto-truck collision Sept. 23 on South Prospect street. Only minor changes were made from the original petition. The accident occurred as Stiffler and others were riding south and crashed into Moore's parked truck which they said had no lights or warning flares. Monger & Monger are attorneys for Stiffler. Two other suits against Moore for $5,150 and $5,200 bring total claims to $15,500.

Licensed To Wed

Marriage licenses were granted in probate court yesterday to Dallas Bartram, foreman, and Maye Smith, teacher, both of Morral; to Paul Howard Longworth, carpenter of Delaware, and Midge Dunnan, seamstress of Prospect, and to Orville Richards, cementer of Franklin county, and Frances Rogers of Marion R. D. No. 1.

74 EXAMINED AT SCHOOL CLINICS

Physical examinations were given 74 pre-school children at three Marion schools yesterday, bringing the total number examined at the pre-school clinics this week to 165. The clinics will close tomorrow with examinations at the Oakland Heights and St. Mary schools.

This morning clinics were held at the Glenwood and North Main schools.

COUNTY VOTES $400 FOR MEMORIAL DAY

Goes to Veterans' Organizations for Annual Observance.

County commissioners have allotted a total of $400 to service organizations in the county to aid in defraying expenses for observance of Memorial day. Of the total $200 goes to Marion city groups and $200 to village posts.

The distribution is $50 to each of the following: Ead-McGinnis post No. 162, Marion Chapter No. 22 of the Disabled Veterans of the American World war, Spanish War Veterans camp, Marion Post No. 117 of the G. A. R., Vernon H. Mounts post of Waldo and Caledonia post No. 401. The last four groups are all of the American Legion.

G. H. WIEGMAN, 73, DIES AT CHATFIELD

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, O., May 6.—George H. Wiegman, 73, a retired farmer, died of a heart ailment last night at his home in Chatfield. He was born Aug. 17, 1864, in Pennsylvania, and was married in 1884 to Miss Matilda Lutz. Surviving are the widow, two daughters, Mrs. Fen Green of Tiffin and Mrs. Ira Shade of Chatfield township; two sons, Lewis at home and Edwin of Beaver, Pa.; four brothers and three sisters in Pennsylvania, seven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. The funeral will be conducted Saturday at 1:30 p. m. at the home and at 2 p. m. at the Chatfield Lutheran church of which Mr. Wiegman was a member. Burial will be made in the church cemetery.

MOTHERS GUESTS AT SCHOOL PARTY

Fourth Grade of St. Mary Parochial Entertains.

Mothers of the children were guests when the pupils of the fourth grade of St. Mary parochial school and their teacher, Mrs. Marie Maxwell, entertained at a Mothers' day party Tuesday afternoon in the school room. Flowers decorated the rooms and the May altar. The table from which refreshments were served following a program was centered with a bowl of jonquils and sweet peas and lighted with tapers. Appointments were in spring colors. Each of the 40 mothers were presented corsages of sweet peas. The party invitations were designed by the children and were in pastel floral designs.

The children responded to roll call with individual greetings to their mothers, and Gerald Mulligan gave a reading, "The Origin of Mothers' Day." The following recitations were given: "Mary, our Mother," Maxine Walston; "Keeping Mothers' Day," James Lawler; "Flowers for Mother," Joan Stuber; "Mother's Work," Ann Schisler. The program closed with "God's Purpose" and "Life's Fairest Flowers," recited by the entire class.

UNION SERVICE SET FOR GREEN CAMP

Rev. Arthur Annette of Plainfield, Ill., a native and former resident of Green Camp, will deliver the sermon at a union meeting of the Green Camp M. E. and Baptist churches Sunday at 10:45 a. m. at the Baptist church. Rev. Annette will visit his brother, Ray Annette of west of Green Camp.

Sunday night at 7:45 there will be a union meeting at the M. E. church to hear a concert by the Hardin county male chorus, a body of 40 men singing under the direction of Owen Roberts, Kenton school music supervisor.

WILLING WORKERS CLASS ENTERTAINED

A potluck supper was a social feature of a meeting of the Willing Workers class of Fite Memorial Baptist Sunday school Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Leona Sanderson on Davids street. Plans were discussed for assisting in raising money to redecorate the church. Mrs. Sanderson conducted a half-hour Bible study. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Clara Davis on Davids street.

70 TO START WORK ON WPA PROJECTS

Salt Rock Township and Prospect Will Get Federal Work Jobs

WPA projects which will employ 70 men will be started in Marion county next week, it was announced today by WPA officials here. Forty men will be put to work placing a mile of 15-inch tile in the Ritter ditch in the eastern part of Salt Rock township.

Two projects at Prospect will employ 30 men. Landscaping the Prospect cemetery and improving the war memorial in the cemetery will be started Monday. Twenty-five men will be employed on the work which is expected to require two months. Funds totaling $4,484 will be spent. Of that amount the sponsor's share is $900 and the federal funds are $3,584.

Five men next week will begin painting and renovating the town hall in Prospect. Work will be done both inside and outside the building. The sponsor's share is [illegible]5.00 and federal funds total $[illegible]50 for the project.

SEA GOING REGIMENT

The 6[illegible]th Ohio volunteer infantry was in notable battles of the Civil war but probably no engagement with the enemy ever was the cause of more terror than a brief experience with the winds and waves off the mouth of Chesapeake bay.

In June, 1862 the regiment was sent from Alexandria, Va., by water to the aid of General McClellan. It was placed on a steamer with a barge in its tow. A terrific wind came up and the vessels were soon in distress. The men on board expected them to founder at any minute.

The storm finally subsided however and the regiment continued to its destination.

Pulling a Leg

It has been charged the Roosevelt administration [illegible] have no relief policy other than to keep everything about relief as confusingly vague as possible. Never theless [illegible] to believe there is no policy on a matter of such great importance.

More likely, if one looks at the situation speculatively, will arise the possibility that for some reason or other the administration does not choose to publicize its relief policy except to repeat the broad promise that no one will be permitted to starve.

For there is much circumstantial evidence of a strong, clear relief policy related to the administration's other policies. New deal theory holds that economic stability may be secured by bolstering the buying power of the lowest of the population's three general economic levels.

In this lowest economic group are the beneficiaries of relief. Skeptics doubt that some of them deserve relief. Critics ask over and over again why the government doesn't count those who really are out of jobs. Alarmists wonder what is going to happen with state and local expenditures for relief continuing to rise and no material decline in federal expenditures for the same purpose.

These things singly and collectively are puzzling. It is interesting that so many of them can be made clear by assuming that the Roosevelt administration really has a clear relief policy calling for distribution of as much money as possible to as many persons as possible and that its own seeming puzzlement over a relief problem which it understands perfectly is its way of pulling the public's leg—the one with the kicking foot on it.

Full of Confidence.

Confidence has been a marked characteristic of administration leaders in charge of judicial reorganization, a little too marked, if anything.

It is evident now that most of the confidence was assumed to keep the public from knowing how evenly matched the two parties to the judicial controversy were. An administration popularly supposed to be invulnerable could not afford to show that it knew it could be whipped.

Defeat of the reorganization proposal in committee is now held a certainty. If reported out unfavorably, the bill will not be voted on till July, Sen. Ashurst, chairman of the senate judiciary committee, predicts. Then, if congress does not pass it, he adds, outraged public opinion will demand passage next year.

This is the first time any important spokesman for the administration has mentioned the possibility of defeat for the bill. Such a statement is in contrast to the bland assurances of Postmaster General Farley that "we have the votes to pass this bill when we are ready."

If this sort of thing continues there will come a day when congress will go to work on an administration measure and the country won't know how the decision turned out till the last vote is counted.

Incidentally

Another year's distribution of Pulitzer prizes and the accompanying discussions, not all of it good tempered, bring to focus again a neglected [illegible] of the Pulitzer prize system.

The cash value of the prizes is not great. The honor of receiving one of them is coveted, however. Yet the nature of the awards and the fields of endeavor in which they are bestowed do not encourage that [illegible] kind of frenzied activity known as prize competition.

Pulitzer prizes are awarded for evident merit; they are not intended to develop merit, though possibly that may be an indirect effect. The prizes are won incidentally, almost accidentally. Candidates do not compete for them in any literal sense of the word; they do a good job with reason, and then are told one night they have won a Pulitzer prize also.

With prizes being used so widely as levers to pry out gems and pearls from places where they exist, if they exist at all, in murky obscurity, it is a refreshing variation to have one set of prizes used solely to flatter merit [illegible] to [illegible] into showing itself.

Unruffled.

Apparently the remarkable constitution which Eamon de Valera proposes for Ireland has caused about as much excitement in England as the rules and by-laws of a knitting club in an unincorporated Ohio village would cause in Washington.

Here was a tough test of British composure. A king and queen were about to be crowned. Part of the [illegible] was to be Ireland. But Ireland in the meantime is giving attention to a proposal for setting itself up as a republic, an independent from Great Britain in its domestic affairs and [illegible] in foreign affairs. London [illegible] unruffled.

Mr. de Valera [illegible] piece [illegible] Pitt [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] much [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] confederate [illegible] [illegible] British [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Imperial system is stronger [illegible] most voluntary.

They understand this as well as [illegible] individuals who expects to be president of the new republic when and if it is ratified by the people that Ireland's desire for freedom does not extend to a desire for isolation.

Election Takes on New Meaning

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, May 6.—[illegible] election [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] term [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] elections [illegible] there [illegible] [illegible] elections.

[illegible] Packard Motor Car Company [illegible] time there [illegible] in the Packard plant an [illegible] It was no a company [illegible] in the sense of being [illegible] supported by the company, but it [illegible].

[illegible] when the CIO [illegible] on an [illegible] national labor relations board fixed the [illegible] as follows:

[illegible] to be represented by local 190, [illegible] union, United Automobile Workers of America, in the sole representative for collective bargaining?

[illegible] no alternative. The worker [illegible] the CIO or nothing. The wording [illegible] that [illegible] any division in vote [illegible] question [illegible] do you want anybody to represent you in collective bargaining with the management?

[illegible] of the wording of the ballot [illegible] votes out of the 17,000 were negative. It is difficult to understand what the negative ballots meant. Did they mean that the [illegible] workmen wanted to bargain [illegible] individually? This is hardly credible [illegible] workmen and the [illegible] representative to speak for them.

The effect of the phraseology of the ballot is to imply that the government of the United States wants the workmen to sustain [illegible] and that's the CIO. Certainly so far as the Packard employes were concerned, it wasn't an election in the same sense in which the term is usually applied [illegible] choice between alternatives.

A Consent Election

The balloting incidentally has been called by an attache of the national labor relations board a "consent election." This means that the employers and representatives of a given union signed an agreement about it. It is curious how often Senator Wagner and other sponsors of the present labor law on collective bargaining insist, when it is to their advantage in debate, that the employer has no rights at all in an election, that he must refrain from in any way influencing its result, and yet an election contract is placed before the employer and an agreement promulgated.

One of the terms of the agreement in the Packard case included a stipulation that the election was to hold good for a year. This means that no other means of exercising a choice was to be made available for twelve *months to the workers in the Pack*ard plant. Just why the company should be made a party to the agreement about an election which concerns the employes only is something of a mystery, unless it illustrates the extremes to which government officials are willing to go nowadays to help the CIO against the A. F. of L.

The circumstances surrounding the Packard election will bear watching. The Packard company obeyed every phase of the Wagner law. It conceded the right of collective bargaining and even consented to an immediate election on the terms set forth by the national labor relations board. No opportunity was given the company to set forth its views to the workmen and no means were provided for explaining to the workmen that they could have an organization of their own and that the national labor relations board would accord such an independent union the same rights on the ballot as a CIO union.

Today, with the CIO selected as the sole agency for collective bargaining by reason of the majority vote in the election, the first legal hurdle has been passed. Now the question is what does the collective bargaining bring? The workmen in advance of the election were told that the $3 a month charge for dues would be reduced to 25 cents if the Packard workers would vote for CIO. Under the labor law the giving of inducements by labor unions to get votes is not an inducement, but the willingness of an employer to pay the expenses of an employe organization so as to avoid the payment of dues is an unfair labor practice which is unlawful under the Wagner act.

Promises Before Realization

The campaign issue in the election at the Packard plant was a promise by the CIO that wage increases would be obtained. A set of 21 demands has been presented which are now in process of being discussed between the Packard executives and the CIO representatives. If the latter fail to get the main demands the workmen have no means for a whole year of getting aid of the committee which promised them specific advantages in return for the payment of dues.

So far as the demands are concerned a difficulty has arisen which may produce a cessation of employment and a severe strike. The wage increases being asked of the Packard management involve a greater expense to that company than to its competitors. The unions are not negotiating a basic scale for all auto workers, but are demanding different things in different plants. Even if a uniform increase is brought about there is no consideration given to any tribunal, the consumers—who might refuse to buy as many automobiles hereafter if the prices are raised to meet rising labor costs. It is being reported rather widely that if the present trend of increased costs are accepted by the auto managements most cars will have to be advanced from $50 to $100, in which case a drop in production and hence a drop in employment would seem to be inevitable. Maybe that's the election the workers have forgotten about—the election which the consumers usually hold when they are asked to choose between buying a new car at a price beyond their pocketbooks or sticking it out with the old car for a couple years or more. The whole present trend of success in the auto industry dates from the time they began to bring prices down.

Busy Woman

BY SIGRID ARNE
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK—Elinor Herrick stopped shuffling the hundred or so letters on her desk and grinned up at her secretary sticking her head through the door.

"Lunch?" asked the girl.

"Coffee—lots of coffee," said Mrs. Herrick.

"Something else?"

"You pick it."

So the secretary invaded lower Broadway where Mrs. Herrick's office is located for coffee and sandwiches. By [illegible] o'clock the coffee was gone, the sandwiches untouched.

ELINOR HERRICK

In the interim Mrs. Herrick had emerged from one of her interminable conferences grinning. Another strike had been averted.

She's the plump and hearty [illegible] to whom all the disgruntled workers in northern New Jersey, the lower half of New York and part of Connecticut take their complaints. Her title is regional director of the national labor relations board—you know, NLRB. Her district is the nation's most concentrated industrial area.

There have been plenty of complaints to mediate since Mrs. Herrick took office three years ago. But now that the Wagner act has stood the supreme court test, complaints are arriving in dead earnest and Mrs. Herrick's office gives a fine imitation of those first excited NRA days.

Averts Most Strikes

She admits that some of the square-jawed workers and tweedy employers look startled when they enter her office and realize that "I. Herrick" is a woman. But she says about 85 per cent of the threatened strikes never come off after they've been through the NLRB mill. She sort of wishes the public would realize that. Furthermore, she blue pencils a third of the complaints.

Sometimes the harassed industrial chiefs arrive bristling. One walked in recently flanked by a lawyer and a court stenographer.

Mrs. Herrick smiled. "If I'm the sort of person that makes a lawyer and a stenographer necessary," she said, "I can do you no good. Good-bye." The gentleman sighed, but he sat down alone and his particular strike never materialized.

Factory Worker

Mrs. Herrick is a girl who quit Barnard college because she couldn't switch from a dull history course to one given by Charles Beard. She was curious about all the labor talk, so she went to work folding paper boxes in a factory. Then she shifted to a DuPont factory at Old Hickory, Tenn., where she stayed until she became a production manager.

Meanwhile she married, had two sons and became a widow. Those two boys would have scared many a mother into keeping a job, but not Mrs. Herrick. She knocked off work to enroll at Antioch college in Ohio, which was run then by Dr. Arthur Morgan of the TVA board.

Wins Diploma

In 1929 she took her diploma (won mostly by studying labor problems) and arrived in New York to become executive secretary of the Consumers' League that have [illegible] ideas which also [illegible] Secretary of Labor Perkins, Representative Caroline O'Day, Molly Dewson (the Democrats' lady Farley) and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

When the Wagner act was passed Mrs. Herrick went to NLRB. When the [illegible] court [illegible] Oley, Mrs. Herrick's son at Yale [illegible] to write her.

"Dear Mom, how does it feel to be legitimate?"

BY EDDY GILMORE

WASHINGTON, May 6—Postmaster General James A. Farley both gives and receives inside political news at his press conferences.

Things are so informal in his spacious mahogany walled office suite that the get-togethers with newsmen often turn into a sort of open forum.

Farley will divulge some behind the scenes incident—often off the record—and then some reporters will tell him one. Unintentionally or not, it sounds like horse trading.

The postmaster general, who is, of course, the chairman of the Democratic national committee, makes everybody feel at home.

Reporters troop into his office and swarm about his big desk. Some even sit on it and they put questions to him. Others unable to get up close get around behind him and crack jokes over his shoulder.

Always at ease with the press, the postmaster general manages to hear everyone's question and to reply if he can. Many of his replies are off the record and can not be printed, but they supply important background.

Many veteran reporters swear by him as a news source.

"The general," they say, "will never throw you a curve."

Farley is a human dictograph about names. Once he hears a name he'll nearly always remember it, and he knows scores of newsmen by their first.

His faculty of dealing with people makes him as good a listener as a talker. Follow his press conference closely and you'll find before many minutes that he'll be doing a lot of the interviewing.

Admirers constantly are showering him with agricultural gifts and he often invites the newsmen to share in them. He has held watermelon cuttings and peach peelings.

Today in Ohio History

A journal kept by George Ewing, one of the pioneer settlers of Ohio and father of Sen. Thomas Ewing, discloses that May 6, 1778, was a day of celebration and rejoicing throughout the United States of America.

News had reached America about a week after that France and Spain had recognized the independence of the new nation—the United States of America—and the formal celebration was set for May 6.

Son James Speaks for Father

BY PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, May 6—Young James Roosevelt failed to get headlines throughout the country on his recent Boston speech, but if his words reflected the serious thoughts of his father, extra edi*tions should have been issued.* He more than surprised a large gathering in that city by declaring that the problem of creating jobs in private industry was one to be solved by the states and not the federal government.

"Whose problem is this creation of jobs?" he asked. "Is it the business of the federal government or is it the business of Massachusetts? I am convinced it belongs to the commonwealth. The time has come when states must pull in harness with Washington instead of always being second in the tandem with all the pull being borne up front. And these problems are by their nature things that can best be accomplished by the states."

One Boston paper said Son James spoke as administrative as*sistant to his father.* In its account of his speech this parenthetical notation was made: "Regarded by many as the unofficial pronouncement of the national administration, James used the first pronoun 'I' pretty generally." His "we" hooked him so closely to Massachusetts that he was asked if he intended to seek office. His answer was "I'm not saying now."

Approved?

At the capital more than one senator sent for a copy of the address. It was felt that Mr. R's own son would not go before such a gathering—the speech was delivered at a testimonial banquet to Boston's postmaster, Peter F. Tague—and utter such thoughts without presidential sanction. Special significance was attached to these words of James regarding the need for relief funds: "To use the lawyer's words, the burden of *proof must be shifted from Wash*ington to Massachusetts, to Boston and Worcester, to Lynn and North Adams."

Few know it, but back of those words is this story: At one of the White House budget balancing conferences preceding Mr. R's departure for tarpon waters, the President is reported to have complained of the presure placed on him by governors and mayors for federal aid. Mr. Roosevelt was represented as finding this group a tough one to handle. They either couldn't understand or just wouldn't take a "No" to their requests.

It has leaked out that this suggestion was made to the executive: If a governor or a mayor asked for money, tell him to submit proof of his need. When this proof is given the President would say something like this: "Now that you have given me proof that your state is bankrupt and unable to care for its needs, I'll publicly issue a formal proclamation to the nation saying that Gov. So and So has certified that his state is financially embarrassed and in need of federal charity."

The President then was told that he would not be further troubled. No governor or mayor in his right mind would admit publicly that his state or city was no better off than a poor house. If he did the voters would take care of him at the next election.

Mistake

The proposal by Congressman Woodrum of Virginia that all the big appropriation bills be sent back to committee to pare down the total cost was a tactical blunder. Colleagues on the committee gave a prompt veto to the proposition. It was embarrassing as it has only been a few weeks since the bills were reported. Any economies that could be made now could have been made then, but no one was thinking of economies. Vice President Garner had not started his Paul Revere ride to warn the country against overspending.

Change

The administration is quietly doing an about face on its farm program. Backstage much is happening. Little as yet has reached the surface. The reason is that more than one in the administration feels that if the farmer is ever to stand on his own feet it is time to start. Mr. Roosevelt also has let it be known that he thinks the farmer has received enough New Deal thinking on agricultural lines will now be centered on plans that are self supporting.

One piece of farm legislation apparently safely tucked out of sight is the crop insurance bill designed to aid wheat farmers. *It has been given to a house agri*culture subcommittee on which no wheat states are represented. The $50,000,000 tenant farmer bill has little life left in it.

Meow

The old story that the mice will play when the cat's away is most applicable to official Washington when Mr. Roosevelt goes fishing. Several members of the cabinet are absent taking needed rests while others are planning to frolic.

Mr. Garner, the vice president, is the guest of honor of one party going to the Kentucky derby. Postmaster General Jim Farley is heading another. Mr. Morgenthau is forgetting gold and other worries at his farm in New York and Attorney General Cummings is resting in the south from the court-picking fight.

Going Down With Chin Up

BY O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, May 6—The plight of many theatrical stars was stressed this midwinter when William Faversham, for years an idol of the stage, gave up the long fight for a living and entered an actor's home with the listing "completely destitute." He had fought valiantly for a niche here and in Hollywood.

The Faversham-Julie Opp openings were the Lunt and Fontanne Premieres of that day. They received the highest salaries ever paid up to that time and on their tours were as popular in the outland as in New York. No star got more mash notes than "Favvy."

Faversham went to his charity cloister with his chin up. He refused to see reporters. "I am of a forgotten past," he said, "and of no interest to the public." There are a half hundred Favershams in Broadway going down hill with shoulders back, head high.

They live in shabby rooming houses and try with all their might to look prosperous, hoping against hope for the inevitable break. Almost every day they drop into the Lambs or Players as though life were not the heartbreaking thing it once it has turned out to be.

The current rinkadoo in cigaret cases is large sized in plain gold or silver upon which the owner has the autograph of his intimate friend engraved. Clay Morgan, the N. B. C. ballyhooer, has one of the most elaborate — inscribed with more than 100 famous names. Incidentally, I hear the most expensive cigaret case known is owned by the Duke of Windsor and cost $11,000.

As the result of a suit of her last husband, Chet O'Brien, a chorus boy member of her company, to share in her estate, it was revealed that Marilyn Miller left but $64,000. During her most productive dozen years she was the stage's highest salaried star, receiving during some months of "Sally" $7,000 a week, a record up to that time. She lived modestly, but was generous with friends and relatives. For her talents she rose higher than almost any actress of her time. A hundred girls in the chorus could dance as well and her voice was not unusual. Also her smile was one of those woodenly prop grimaces, yet she had a quality, not sex, but a little girl appeal that brought customers to the box office. She made more money for Ziegfeld than any other single star.

Editor Squire Mauck of my home town paper writes: "This is the first letter I have written since the flood and I don't remember writing one before."

And from a San Francisco word beagle: "Oftenest misspelled word in the paper, GAUGE. Oftenest misplaced, ONLY. Most wretched affectation in these degenerate times is the use of the word DUNK and the term LOUSY. And can't something be done about definitely?"

* * *

Also there comes a hoot on Biltmore hotel stationery for the favorite actress of many in a twist of the old Dr. Fell theme in:

I do not like you, Kate Cornell,
But why it is I cannot tell;
But this I know and know full well,
I do not like you, Kate Cornell.

They know that in most instances they are like income taxes endured. Still I wish that one some day would refuse to spout that most meaningless and inconsequential line: "For further information see your daily paper."

[illegible] how [illegible] team would be permitted to play in both the Industrial league on Thursday night and the free for all loop Friday night. Because they could not enter both leagues several teams did not file application for participation in the Friday night affair.

Rosters of the Sunday school loops No. 1 and No. 2 which will be in action on Monday and Tuesday nights respectively apparently are complete. Twelve clubs have filed in the Sunday school loops which may this year revert to six team membership. Last year eight teams were included in each league.

Listed among the teams entered for Sunday school competition are Wesley No. 1, Trinity Baptist, Forest Lawn, Fite Street, Epworth No. 1, Calvary Evangelical, Central Christian, Wesley No. 2, Epworth, Bishops, Salem Evangelical, Greenwood Evangelical and Emmanuel Lutheran. Industrial league entries are Huber Mfg. Co., Fairfield Engineering Co., Defiance Pressed Steel Co., Omar Baking Co., Osgood Co., with the possibility that both the Marion Steam Shovel and General Excavator companies will also be represented.

In addition to fixing the league rosters and making preliminary plans for setting up the league schedules, commission members will consider plans to outlaw the practice of early season postponement or forfeiting of games. The problem previously came before the softball board but action was deferred.

M'AFEE TEAM WINS IN TARGET MATCH

By a margin of 28 points Capt. F. L. McAfee's No. 1 team defeated Capt. Ross Croll's No. 1 club in a target match of the Marion Revolver association on the range at the Eagles building last night. Leo Croll of the defeated quintet led in individual scoring with 291 points out of a possible 300.

It was announced at the session that the association will hold a business meeting on the range Friday night at 7:30 o'clock. Complete result of last night's match follows: Team No. 1, Capt. McAfee 40, William F. Marks [illegible] Kenneth Shrine 253, R. S. Slagle 274, W. R. Lawrence Jr. 250, total 1203. Team No. 1, Capt. R. Croll 259, Leo Croll 261, R. L. Copeland 101, Walter Bailey 17, Clyde Hardin 234, total 1,150.

REDS' JINX HAUNTS FARM TEAM, TOO

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O., May 6.—Cincinnati's Reds, who have had plenty of trouble hitting a winning stride in the National league, found out today that their tough luck is shared by their Bisbee, Ariz., farm club.

Manager Mickey Shader and 11 of his players spent the entire night recently in a bus stranded on the Arizona desert between Bisbee and Albuquerque. They had no bedding and no food while they sat shivering in the bus throughout the night.

Finally at 7:30 a. m. a truck loaded with highway workers came along and found the clogged feed line that had caused all the trouble.

STEEL TEAM BOOKS 2 PRACTICE GAMES

Members of the Defiance Pressed Steel Co.'s team entered in the Industrial softball league have booked two practice games. [illegible] Kern, manager, has announced. One will be played with the Osgood Co. team at the Commercial Steel Castings Co. diamond Friday night at 6:30. The other will be with the [illegible] Camp team next Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the Pleasant township school diamond.

REDS BREAK LOSING STREAK BY SETTING DOWN GIANTS, 8-5

Kampouris Clubs Two of Cincinnati's Four Homers Cleveland Rained Out

BY SID FEDER

Associated Press Sports Writer

[illegible] New York Yankees.

Lately the [illegible] of broken [illegible] will [illegible] strike [illegible] a dark cloud within shouting distance.

[illegible] hitting power and the [illegible] of their supposedly questionable pitching staff the world champions were [illegible] full of [illegible] as a Christmas punch bowl over the [illegible] Charles (Red) Ruffing, their [illegible] hurler of 1936.

[illegible] three days ago in second [illegible] the Tigers [illegible] twice in a row, turning in a 7-6 win yesterday with George [illegible] picking two [illegible] Lawson posting an eight strikeout performance. That lifted the Tigers into [illegible] place and pulled the [illegible] to the top by a full game.

Although pitchers generally [illegible] Dizzy Dean and Cy Blanton along with [illegible] were notable exceptions. Dizzy had little trouble with the [illegible] and aided by five [illegible] home runs turned in his fourth straight victory [illegible] the Boston Bees.

Blanton, top flinger of the [illegible] Pirates crack staff, fanned eight and allowed but five hits in pitching the Bucs to a 7-1 over the Brooklyn Dodgers, their fourth straight, to keep the Pittsburghers a game and a half in front in the National League.

The New York Giant pitching, in the person of Fat Freddy Fitzsimmons and his knuckleball, was given a thorough going over by Cincinnati's aroused Reds. With Alex Kampouris clubbing two of four Red homers, the roughhouse Reds won their second victory of the season, 8-5 over the National league champions. Also in a homer hammering mood were the Cubs who belted the Phillies 17-1 [illegible] stretch their streak to five straight.

Outside of the Yanks-Tigers tod[illegible] the only other American league game was in Chicago when the Athletics staged a six-run rally in the eighth to top the White Sox 7-6. The Red Sox-St. Louis Browns and Washington-Cleveland Indians tilts were rained out.

MAY DROP BUCYRUS, MANSFIELD CONTEST

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, May 6.—Whether Bucyrus will meet Mansfield High on the gridiron next fall is still a matter of speculation. An agreement was expected Tuesday when Principal Jesse Leer of Mansfield brought his high school students to Bucyrus for an exchange assembly here but financial matters block a settlement, according to Principal Charles Davis of Bucyrus High.

A basketball game with the Tygers who recently withdrew from the North Central Ohio league is definitely out, Mr. Davis said. The reason given was that Bucyrus already has a 16 game cage schedule and officials do not wish to enlarge it. Definite action of a football meeting between the two schools is expected in the near future.

VETERAN EXPLAINS PROBABLE CAUSE

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK May 6—James C Bud Mars first dirigible flier in America commenting on the Hindenburg explosion said tonight the German airship must have contacted the ground through a landing rope to cause the explosion

The hydrogen gas bag would have gathered static in the electrical storm he said and as it was about to moor one of its landing ropes touching the ground could complete the circuit

Even though the Hindenburg "was supposed to be insulated against such an occurrence said Mars one screw through the insulation could carry the current to the hydrogen gas

Mars now 61 years old has been a close student of modern developments in lighter than air craft and said this is the worst thing that could happen to our hopes to revive lighter than air construction in this country

Mars soloed in a hot air balloon and parachute in 1892 and ten years later made the first successful dirigible flight in the country in a ship built with the late Major Thomas Scott Baldwin It was flown later at the St Louis exposition of 1904

GERMAN AIRSHIPS HAVE FINE RECORD

By The Associated Press

Until the explosion of the Hindenburg Germany's record of thousands of miles of safe flight in her Zeppelins contrasted remarkably with disastrous attempts of the United States Britain and other countries to develop lighter than air craft

More than 400 persons had lost their lives in the past 30 years in previous peace time airship disasters but no serious accidents had befallen Zeppelins since 1913

In that year on September 9 the L-1 the first German naval air ship built in 1912 foundered off Heligoland and its crew of 13 was lost.

On Octobr 17 of the same year its sister ship the L-2 exploded over Johannisthal airdrome killing 28

The Graf Zeppelin in October 1925 ripped a fin in a terrific gale as it neared the United States after a trans Atlantic flight but it reached Lakehurst N J safely In May 1929 it was endangered when four of five motors went dead in a flight over Europe but again it reached safety in France

A regular Zeppelin service has been maintained between Germany and South America since 1930 without serious accident

The success of the Hindenburg in the north Atlantic service started last year has resulted in the inauguration of a big Zeppelin building program A sister ship is now near completion and two others have been projected

TAX DISTRIBUTION TO START FRIDAY

The way was cleared for distribution beginning Friday of $373,373.37 in real estate taxes among county governmental subdivisions when the auditor of state yesterday approved the semi-annual settlement of County Auditor Harry V Mounts and County Treasurer Homer D Cole.

The taxes were collected during the last December collection period ended April 1. The county, city, villages, townships and school districts will share in the distribution" Auditor Mounts said.

HINDENBURG AT START OF FIRST TRIP

4TH MAJOR MISHAP TO AIRSHIPS HERE

By The Associated Press

LAKEHURST N J May 6—The disaster which overtook the German dirigible Hindenburg tonight on her maiden voyage of the 1937 season was the fourth major lighter than aircraft disaster in America

On Sept 3 1925 the navy dirigible Shenandoah was caught in a line storm over Ohio and broke in half Fourteen of her crew of 43 were killed Lt Commander Charles E Rosendahl the present commandant at the Lakehurst naval air station was aboard and free ballooned the forward section of the broken ship to the ground

On April 4 1933 the Akron then the largest sky cruiser in existence was destroyed at sea in a thunder storm off Barnegat inlet All but three of her crew of … perished

Early in 1935 the sister ship of the Akron the Macon was wrecked at sea off California while participating in naval maneuvers Most of her crew were saved

Ten 1936 Trips Across Atlantic Without Mishap

The Hindenburg in making 10 scheduled trips between her air drome base at Frankfurt on Main in Germany and Lakehurst N J made commercial airship operation an established fact in 1936 according to the 1937 issue of the World Almanac Operated by the Deutsche Zeppelin Reederei Co the giant ship made 10 west bound trips over a course measuring 3 894 miles in an average of 64 and a fraction hours

Eastbound the average trip was made in 52 and a fraction hours The fastest time westbound was 52 8 and eastbound was 42 9 hours

During the trips which were made from May 6 to October 15 the Hindenburg carried passengers varying between 21 and 72 and the demand for passage caused an increase in berth accommodations from 50 to 70 before the 1936 season closed The fare was $400 one way and $720 for a round trip ticket Mail loads ranged from 2,260 pounds to 167 pounds a 40 cents per half ounce

Freight cargoes at $1 per pound including a complete automobile and airplane ran heavy on each trip Earlier in 1936 the Hindenburg flew uneventfully to Rio De Janeiro

Usually it was manned by a crew of about 60 and was in charge of Dr Hugo Eckener with Capt Ernst A Lehmann in charge Capt Lehmann has made more than 1 500 flights in zeppelins

The dimensions of the Hindenburg were length 811 feet gross lift in pounds 472 940 engines 4 400 horsepower each diameter 135 17 feet gas volume 7 063 000 cubic feet maximum speed 81 37 miles per hour cruising range 8 750 miles number of engines four Diesels weight 220 tons

The Hindenburg could cruise at 78 miles an hour

The cost of the Hindenburg was $3,250 000 apparently large — but small in comparison with the approximately eight million required to construct the Akron and Macon in America.

DUKE'S AND WALLY'S GIFTS SCRUTINIZED

By The Associated Press

MONTS FRANCE, May 6—In the fear that a bomb might be disguised as a wedding gift, police maintained a close scrutiny today on packages delivered to the Duke of Windsor and Mrs. Wallis Simpson the former monarch's associates disclosed.

Edward's youngest brother, the Duke of Kent, probably will be best man, and Herman L. Rogers,

Above is Dr Hugo Eckener, head of dirigible operations in Germany and first commander of the Hindenburg He was displaced last year because of his reported refusal to name the ship Hitler and to place Hitler's picture where Gen Von Hindenburg's appeared

SORROW IS SPREAD THROUGH GERMANY

BERLIN May 7 (Friday)—Word of the Hindenburg disaster spread consternation early today through a shocked and at first disbelieving Germany

The shock was all the greater because the country so many years free from airship catastrophes almost had begun to believe it was immune

Officials at the Zeppelin's home port at Frankfort at first refused to believe the news

We just got radiograms from the Hindenburg at 7 p m and 8 p m (1 p m 2 p m E S T) saying all was well one said There must be some mistake

Dismayed Berlin officials expressed the quick hope the extent of the disaster would be less than first reports indicated

YOUTH ACCUSED OF 10 HOUSE BREAK-INS

With the arrest of a 16 year old Marion youth last night city police today declared they had cleared up a series of 10 house burglaries dating from Feb 14 to April 25 The youth is Donald Buster Cray of 470 Cherry street He will be turned over to juvenile court

Police said the youth admitted destroying some of the stolen articles and selling others The settings had been removed from a number of rings some of the watches had been dismantled and the emblem of one ring thought to have been a high school class

U. S. PLANS PROBE OF AIR DISASTER

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON May 6—Chairman Copeland Democrat of New York of the senate committee investigating air safety said tonight he would order the committee investigator to begin an inquiry at once into the disaster to the German airliner Hindenburg

Copeland said his committee had concerned itself primarily with heavier than air craft but that the accident to the dirigible would turn its attention to lighter than air craft.

We will inquire into it Copeland said when informed of the disaster This is a matter of concern to us I will ask Colonel Harold E Hartney (the committee investigator) to look into the matter at once

Copeland said he was very much shocked at the news

This ship has been the outstanding example of lighter than air craft he said Eckener has done such marvelous feats with it It is almost impossible to believe the ship has been destroyed

This accident makes us desire to know why it happened and if it will have any serious effect on development of that branch of the industry

Secretary Roper said investigators of the bureau of air commerce would be sent to the scene at once

I am terribly distressed he explained

HOLLYWOOD SLAYING INQUIRY REOPENED

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES May 6—District Attorney Buron Fitts announced today a renewed investigation into moviedom's greatest mystery the slaying of Director William Desmond Taylor 15 years ago

The prosecutor said Mary Miles Minter silent screen star Mrs Charlotte Shelby her mother and Mrs Margaret Fillmore her sister have been subpoenaed to appear before the county grand jury

He claimed information never before disclosed This included two diaries

Mrs Shelby declared she is delighted that District Attorney Fitts has reopened the inquiry

She made the statement in the office of her attorney Clyde Murphy

Last summer Mrs Shelby brought an insanity complaint against Mrs Fillmore, which was later dismissed

In an official statement the district attorney said

My office has never closed the William Desmond Taylor murder investigation The Fillmore deposition came to us while my investigators were working along similar

GEMS WORTH MILLIONS GLEAM FOR CORONATION

Costly Stones of All Hues and Royal Raiment Will Turn Somber Westminster Abbey Into a Glittering Galaxy.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, May 6—Millions of dollars worth of jewels and costly gowns will be worn in the coronation social marathon just launched, and the precious stones promise to turn somber Westminster abbey into a glittering treasure chest at the crowning of George VI next Wednesday.

Valuable family gems are being taken from vaults and refurbished for the tremendous program of balls banquets, dinners and garden parties scheduled during the next two months.

The coronation [illegible] opened in the gold-decked ballroom of Buckingham palace last night when 100 debutantes, including 14 Americans, made their bows before King George and Queen Elizabeth in the first of three royal courts.

Every woman at the abbey ceremony—from the queen down—will wear the most precious jewels she owns, tiaras, necklaces and bracelets.

REPORT 37 DEAD FOUND TOTAL TOLL UNCERTAIN

BULLETIN

By The Associated Press

LAKEHURST, N J, May 6—A customs inspector who would not give his name estimated tonight that 37 bodies had been taken out of the wrecked zeppelin Hindenburg There were 99 aboard

NEW YORK, May 6—An official of the Hamburg American line said tonight he had received information from Lakehurst that between 30 and 40 persons survived the destruction of the zeppelin Hindenburg

LAKEHURST, N J, May 6—Harry Bruno, press aide for the zeppelin company, said 50 persons of the 99 aboard the Hindenburg have been definitely reported saved

By The Associated Press

LAKEHURST, N J, May 6—The giant dirigible Hindenburg burst into flames and sank to the ground a twisted, blazing wreck early tonight as it was nearing the ground preparatory to mooring with 99 persons aboard

The big ship had cruised overhead more than an hour waiting for a rain storm to clear to permit a mooring and was preparing to come down when suddenly there was a terrific explosion and burst of flames.

Immediately it telescoped and sank quickly to the ground amid the shrieks of many persons gathered to witness the arrival of the huge airship on the first of her 18 trips to the United States planned for this year

How many were killed or injured could not be immediately determined

TRUCKS SPEED OUT.

Trucks sped toward the wreckage with screaming sirens

Spectators were weeping and shouting hysterically.

The ship used hydrogen, a highly explosive gas.

Dr. Hugo Eckener, famous airship commander, and Capt. Ernest A. Lehmann were skippers of the Hindenburg last year Capt Max Pruss, assuming command for the first time on this trip, has worked in close cooperation with these two veterans He traveled with both the Graf Zeppelin and the Hindenburg last year and was on the Graf on its trips to the Arctic, northern Africa and around the world

Several members of the passenger list and a few of the crew were known to have escaped by jumping from the flaming fabric of the great ship.

Official sources listed among the survivors Capt Pruss and Capt Lehmann, who commanded it on 10 trips between the United States and Germany last year

Pruss also was aboard the old Los Angeles, decommissioned airship of the U S navy when it was brought to the United States in 1924 and he spent five months at Lakehurst as an instructor in 1924 25

PLANNED 18 TRIPS TO U S.

The zeppelin was to have made 18 round trips this year and was to have cut its time at Lakehust to one day on each trip. Speedier reservicing operations were worked out during the off-season by Lieut Commander C V S. Knox, assembly and repair officer at the naval air station, and technicians of the oil company which supplied the ship with its hydrogen lifting gas and Diesel fuel oil

Those aboard the zeppelin included 31 passengers and a crew of 61, including several lighter than air students and the first doctor ever assigned to a zeppelin.

(Observers timed the explosion at 6 20 p m (Eastern Standard Time)

First reports listed the survivors as including Clifford Osbun of Chicago Joseph Spahs and Philip Mangon

All available cars and trucks were commandeered to speed to hospitals those taken from the wreckage

A police radio appeal was broadcast from nearby Freehold for all ambulances and fire apparatus in Monmouth county to rush to Lakehurst.

A commercial airline which had awaited a call from Lakehurst before sending planes there to return passengers to Newark immediately sent a plane with physicians and nurses to the scene of the disaster

Alarm Broadcast

A state wide alarm also was broadcast on police teletype-writers for ambulances and nurses. Two ambulances with doctors and nurses prepared to leave the Jersey City medical center immediately

The Hindenburg was scheduled to arrive early today but strong headwinds over the Atlantic delayed her and it was midafternoon before she passed over New York City.

She cruised over northern Jersey waiting for a 6 p. m. Eastern Standard time mooring. The ground crew had been instructed to report at that time.

Then she was sighted approaching the Lakehurst air station [illegible]

The big ship had tossed her nose lines to the ground in a light shower for a mooring when a terrific explosion and outburst of flames occurred

Two stewards and a little cabin boy, who refused to give their names escaped They said the explosion came from the stern of the ship and they saved themselves by jumping from the wreckage

Explodes Near Ground

Watchers near the mooring tower said the ship was only a few hundred feet from the ground and passengers were laughing and waving from the observation windows when the bomb-like explosion sent out clouds of red and black, billowing smoke.

Harry Wellbrook, of Toms River, a member of the ground crew directly under the stern, waiting for the landing lines to be thrown, said he and the men in the crew ran for their lives to keep away from the blazing wreckage

After the dirigible struck the ground and they returned, they tried to bring survivors from the wreckage.

He said "we got out three bodies from the stern of the ship all burned beyond recognition"

"One of the men was so horribly burned that the features were not recognizable only by the fact that he was still breathing could we tell he was alive. The clothing on all of these bodies was burned to cinders and the skin scorched off.

Army on Rescue Work.

Rescue work was being conducted by an army detail from Philadelphia which was on the ground for an emergency.

The rescue workers started to enter the wreckage before the fire had stopped burning They entered the bow of the ship near the control cabin from which one badly burned body was taken shortly after the explosion.

Even after the wreckage had fallen to the ground minor explosions continued amidship

Screams came from the wreckage

Rescue workers said the anguished cries were terrible

One rescue worker said he saw about a dozen persons pulled out of the wreckage

Some were burned badly others not

Herbert O Laughlin of Chicago was among the survivors He was put aboard a plane for Chicago

Jumps from Ship

Asked how he escaped O Loughlin said he jumped when the ship was about 10 feet from the ground

Murray Becker, an Associated Press photographer, was running back as the ship approached the mast with its nose up and tail down

I had my camera up to the eye level when the ship burst toward the tail end he said It seemed to be in the center The tail went first and the nose seemed to hang in the air

I saw no one jumping out because I was so far back

"I ran toward the ship and saw it enveloped in flames In a fraction of a second there was nothing left but the skeleton There wasn't much smoke. I saw a man walking toward me, assisted by two men He had no clothes on. I saw a woman lying on a stretcher. There were screams from men and women on the field."

Another cameraman, Larry Kennedy, said he was hit by some flying fabric from the burning ship.

"It burst over our heads as though the ship were made of paper," he said "Pieces of fabric fell on us. I saw one fellow jump out or fall out. I think he was a passenger.

"He lay moaning on the ground."

Robert Seelig a photographer said:

"There was a noise that sounded like bullets coming out of the gondolas I saw nobody jumping I heard everybody on the ground screaming. The heat made my face tighten up."

Harry Bruno, press representative for the Zeppelin company said there were 99 persons aboard

One witness standing almost directly under the ship said:

"As she dropped her lines down at 8 20 EST there was a burst of flame and a loud report which appeared to be just aft of the port stern gondola. There was a loud shout 'run for your lives' from the ground crew and the second explosion came about 30 seconds later.

"The ship buckled as the flames spread from the aft forward and then slowly settled to the ground. With several of the others I ran as far as I could out of the circle.

"I saw [illegible]

PRECAUTIONS TAKEN TO PREVENT FIRES

Elaborate precautions against fire were required of the passengers of the Hindenburg where smokers could light up only in a fireproof room according to an article by W B Courtney in Collier's Weekly this week The room is on the starboard side and can be entered only after ringing a bell

A sentry opens the first door lets the passenger in, closes the first door and last opens the smoking chamber, where air is kept at high pressure to repel any stray hydrogen which may have leaked from the seven million cubic foot bag No matches are permitted lighters are confiscated on arrival on the ship and returned on leaving

Filled with the explosive hydrogen the Hindenburg contains 16 huge cells composed of a balloon within a balloon The inner bag only contains hydrogen, while the outer contains a protective layer of air Mr Courtney writes that the Germans use hydrogen because it has a greater lifting power than the non inflammable helium

Since 1909 German Zeppelins have flown nearly a million passengers without a fatality. The Hindenburg expenses for each round trip is approximately $80 000

Capt Lehmann was quoted by Mr Courtney as saying that perhaps 3 000 or more persons will have the opportunity to cross the Atlantic by air in 1937.'

Fire, Police Pension Suits Taken To Appeals Court

Attorneys Act in Thompson and Uhne Cases; Grounds Listed in Notices

Suits of former Police Chief James W. Thompson and Hiley D. Uhne, retired city fire captain, testing the legality of the abolition of the police and firemen's pension systems were carried to the court of appeals today within a few minutes of each other. The notice of appeal in the Thompson suit followed almost immediately Judge Hector S. Young's denial of a new trial in common pleas court. The request for a new trial in the Uhne suit was filed yesterday.

W. [illegible] attorney for [illegible] the operation of [illegible] of appeal said the case is being taken up as a question of law and cited the following errors of common pleas court in overruling the motion for a new trial in rendering judgment for the [illegible] evidence.

The fireman [illegible] Jr., legal [illegible] eight points of error of the appeal.

1. [illegible]

The court's ruling that money [illegible] paid by taxes for the purpose of paying firemen's pensions could be transferred to the general fund and used for purposes other than that for which it was levied.

3. The ruling that the repeal of the original pension ordinance was valid and that the board of trustees of the pension fund was automatically dissolved when the ordinance was repealed.

4. The holding of the court that the former [illegible] statute [illegible] plaintiff gave up his [illegible] and the [illegible] to the expectation of receiving a pension.

5. The ruling that the repealing ordinance effectively repealed the original pension ordinance [illegible] the fact that the body of the ordinance [illegible] repealed. Only the title of the repealing ordinance [illegible] to be repealed.

6. The court's holding that the repeal was not in violation of state law which does not provide for abolition of the pension system.

7. The overruling of a motion for a new trial.

8. The dismissal of the injunction restraining the transfer of pension funds to the general fund and the dismissal of the original petition.

Both attorneys filed praecipes requesting Clerk of Courts Carl F. Haberman to file all papers, bills of exceptions, transcripts of the docket and entries with the court of appeals.

Judge Young recently ruled in both actions in favor of the city, holding that council has the right to repeal any of its own legislation. The suits originated shortly after council passed ordinances in February 1936 abolishing the pension systems.

MARION COURT BILL EFFECTIVE JULY 29

Amendment Governing Salaries Becomes Operative 90 Days After Signature

The recently enacted amendment to the state legislative act creating the Marion municipal court will go into effect on July 29 following the expiration of a 90 day period from the May [illegible] date when the amendment was signed by Governor Davey.

The amendment provides for employment of at least one deputy clerk in the court at a salary of $1,500 a year and fixes $1,800 as the minimum salary for the bailiff. Salaries of the judge and clerk are not affected.

The salaries provided in the amendment for the bailiff and deputy clerk total only $200 more than the salaries fixed for those offices in city ordinances. Although the municipal court act provides a minimum of $900 for the bailiff, city ordinances have provided the salary for that position should be $1,800 since the court was created 10 years ago. The salary of the deputy clerk is fixed at $1,300 in the present ordinance, which will be superceded by the amendment.

Actually, however, council has set up its appropriations for 1937 on a basis providing only $1,530 for the bailiff and $1,105 for the deputy clerk. These figures represent 15 per cent reductions from the salary rates fixed by ordinance for the positions. Appropriations for all other officials and employes were made on the same basis.

If the bailiff and deputy clerk do not agree voluntarily to 15 per cent reductions council will be obligated under the amendment to pay them a total of $[illegible] a year more than the amounts appropriated for the two positions for 1937.

Fire, Police Pension Suits Taken To Appeals Court

Attorneys Act in Thompson and Uline Cases; Grounds Listed in Notices.

Suits of former Police Chief James W. Thompson and Hilbert D. Uline, retired city fire captain, testing the legality of the abolition of the police and firemen's pension systems, were carried to the court of appeals yesterday within a few minutes of each other. The notice of appeal in the Thompson suit followed almost immediately Judge Hector S. Young's denial of a new trial in common pleas court. The request for a new trial in the police suit was filed day before yesterday.

W. P. Moloney, attorney for Thompson, in the notice of appeal said the case is being taken up on a question of law and cited the following errors of common pleas court: In overruling the motion for a new trial, in entering judgment for the city contrary to law and to evidence.

The firemen's case, in which Grant E. Mouser Jr. is plaintiff's counsel, is being appealed on questions of both law and fact. The notice of appeal cited eight points of error in support of the appeal:

1. On the holding of the court that the action of city council in repealing ordinance 3032 which established the firemen's pension fund was within the power of the council.

2. The court's ruling that money raised by taxation for the purpose of paying firemen's pensions could be transferred to the general fund and used for purposes other than that for which it was levied.

3. The ruling that the repeal of the original pension ordinance was valid, and that the board of trustees of the pension fund was automatically dissolved when the ordinance was repealed.

4. The holding of the court that payment of a pension is a mere gratuity when it appeared the plaintiff gave up his civil service rights and that he would not have retired if it were not for the expectation of receiving a pension.

5. The ruling that the repealing ordinance effectively repealed the original pension ordinance in view of the fact that the body of the ordinance does not designate which other ordinances are being repealed. Only the title of the repealing ordinance mentions the ordinance to be repealed.

6. The court's holding that the repeal was not in violation of state law which does not provide for abolition of the pension systems.

7. The overruling of a motion for a new trial.

8. The dismissal of the injunction restraining the transfer of pension funds to the general fund, the dismissal of the original petition.

Both attorneys filed praecipes requesting Clerk of Courts Carl F. Haberman to file all papers, bills of exceptions, transcripts of the docket and entries with the court of appeals.

Judge Young recently ruled in both actions in favor of the city, holding that council has the right to repeal any of its own legislation. The suits originated shortly after council passed ordinances in February 1936 abolishing the pension systems.

KENTON FOOD FIRM STARTS PRODUCTION

Special to The Star

KENTON, O., May 6—Kenton's newest industry—V-5, Inc.—this week went on a production basis of 2,000 cans of the powdered food daily which will be stepped up to 4,500 cans daily and, as soon as a modern $200,000 plant has been constructed and equipment perfected, will be increased to 20,000 cans daily and employ 150 persons.

Local directors in the Delaware incorporated venture are William Kraus and Boyd W. Fair. Rex W. Hanna, attorney for the firm, also is a stockholder.

MARION COURT BILL EFFECTIVE JULY 29

Amendment Governing Salaries Becomes Operative 90 Days After Signature.

The recently enacted amendment to the state legislative act that created the Marion municipal court will go into effect on July 29 following the expiration of a 90-day period from the May 1 date when the amendment was signed by Governor Davey.

The amendment provides for employment of at least one deputy clerk in the court at a salary of $1,500 a year and fixes $1,800 as the minimum salary for the bailiff. Salaries of the judge and clerk are not affected.

The salaries provided in the amendment for the bailiff and deputy clerk total only $200 more than the salaries fixed for those offices in city ordinances. Although the municipal court act provides a minimum of $900 for the bailiff, city ordinances have provided the salary for that position should be $1,800 since the court was created 10 years ago. The salary of the deputy clerk is fixed at $1,300 in the present ordinance, which will be superceded by the amendment.

Actually, however, council has set up its appropriations for 1937 on a basis providing only $1,530 for the bailiff and $1,105 for the deputy clerk. These figures represent 15 per cent reductions from the salary rates fixed by ordinance for the positions. Appropriations for all other officials and employes were made on the same basis.

If the bailiff and deputy clerk do not agree voluntarily to 15 per cent reductions, council will be obligated under the amendment to pay them a total of $465 a year more than the amounts appropriated for the two positions for 1937.

J. C. MANN ATTENDS ROTARY CONVENTION

Represents Marion Club at District Meeting at Youngstown.

James C. Mann of Delaware avenue is representing the Marion Rotary club at a convention of members of District 21 of Rotary International at Youngstown today and tomorrow. Approximately 15,000 members from northern Ohio are expected to attend Dr. Howard Hayden, president of the Youngstown club, told The Associated Press.

Earl N. Hale, secretary of the Marion club, said this will be the last convention of District 21 which was recently split in two sections. Marion from now on will be in district 21-A, which includes the northwestern counties in the state. District 21-B will include northeastern Ohio counties.

W. D. Brown, president of the Marion club, is unable to attend.

DETROIT MAN HURT AT UPPER SANDUSKY

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, May 6—N. J. Schorn, 47, of Detroit, failed to negotiate a turn at the south edge of town Wednesday and crashed into a tree in the ditch. He suffered a broken right hip, internal injuries and severe facial lacerations and was removed to Findlay Home and Hospital following treatment by a local physician. His car was badly damaged.

Get Rid of Ugly FAT

And You'll Feel and Look Years Younger

No matter how hard you have tried to reduce without good results, you owe it to yourself to try Korjena, the famous fat reducer.

We recommend and sell Korjena Tablets because they are a scientific enemy to fat. They dissolve the fat, making it become liquid so it passes from the bowels through daily elimination. You can actually see fat disappear with the very first two weeks treatment.

Mrs. Paul Bailely, 8019 Castor avenue, Philadelphia, Pa., writes: For several weeks I have been taking Korjena Tablets and have lost over 5 pounds a week. That bloated feeling is gone and I feel so much better. I shall recommend this harmless reducing treatment to my dearest friends.

It's easy, simply take one tiny Korjena Tablet after each meal. EAT WHAT YOU WANT but eat moderately, no violent exercise, no tiresome waiting, no strict diet. Soon you will see a decided change. Ugly, surplus fat where most prominent gradually disappears leaving your skin smooth and firm.

Enjoy the sensation of seeing that burdensome fat just melt away. Surprise your friends by having a trim and slender figure. Korjena is Guaranteed SAFE—it's harmless and not expensive. Don't wait, give this marvelous reducing treatment a trial. If not delighted in two weeks, we'll see that your money is promptly refunded.

Remember! Korjena constantly Dissolves Fat.

TESTS FOR PUPILS SET FOR MONDAY

[illegible]entative of State De-[illegible]tment of Health Will Visit Schools.

[illegible] skin tests will be [illegible] high school students [illegible] Monday by Dr. W. [illegible] of the state department [illegible] County Health Commissioner Dr. N. Sifritt, said today. Originally intended for senior students, the tests were asked by many students in lower classes. Seniors are tested annually there being 158 in county schools this year.

The work is a part of the campaign launched in April throughout the county in an effort to obtain early diagnosis of tuberculosis cases. Another factor which is aiding the work is that colleges throughout the country are asking their freshmen to have the test on admission, Dr. Sifritt said. Students taking the test here will be given a report to submit to college authorities.

The schedule for the schools starting Monday at 9 a. m. is in the following order: Green Camp, Agosta, LaRue, Meeker, Morral, Kirkpatrick, Martel, Caledonia, Claridon, Waldo, Prospect and Pleasant. Approximately one hour is required to test two schools.

The tests will be read Wednesday by Dr. Smith who will follow the same schedule. Students who tested negatively, that is, showed no reaction, will be given a second test Wednesday. The second tests will be read Friday on the same schedule by Dr. Sifritt.

Positive reactions to the test mean only that living tuberculosis germs are in the body and that an X-Ray of the chest is necessary to determine if there has been any damage done in the lungs, Dr. Sifritt said.

Accompanying Dr. Smith and Dr. Sifritt to the schools will be two county nurses.

Your Health

BY DR. R. S. COPELAND

Time To Check Health.

NOT SO much now, but it used to be the practice to take a "spring tonic." Behind every old-fashioned notion there is usually a germ of truth. For this particular one there is a really good reason.

At this time of the year all of us are more or less in need of some sort of tonic. The virtue of the practice lies in the choice of that tonic. Grandmother used to issue her ration of spring medicine which consisted of sulphur and molasses, plus some other bad tasting substance to make the unpleasant home concoction.

Today, cod liver oil is substituted for the old-time sulphur and molasses. In these times, too, emphasis is placed upon the diet and the need for an abundance of fresh fruits, vegetables, cereals, butter, eggs and milk.

At this period of the year, it is a good plan to take the young child to the doctor for a complete overhauling. This is particularly important for the youngster who had frequent colds and sore throats during the winter months. If the tonsils are large and diseased, they should be removed.

The adult, as well as the young child, should be subjected to a complete overhauling at this time of the year. After a long and tedious winter it is well to take inventory of your health. In addition to a visit to the doctor, see your dentist. All cavities should be filled and dental defects should be corrected. An X-ray of the teeth and nasal sinuses may reveal a center of infection which might otherwise be overlooked.

Do not rely on a spring tonic to set you up. If you are feeling below par or are conscious of any physical disturbance, it may be the result of overwork, overeating, undue fatigue, anxiety or lack of rest and relaxation. There may be some internal disturbance, and, if it is neglected, it may cause further damage. What at the present time may be a trivial ailment might become chronic and serious.

Even though you are tempted to resort to the good old-fashioned spring tonic, do not overlook the necessity of consulting your doctor. His advice will be far more beneficial than any quantity of sulphur and molasses you may consume. Take advantage of all that modern science has to offer you.

Here's Speedy Relief For

Tender, Aching, Swollen Feet

Your feet may be so swollen and inflamed that you think you can't go another step. Your shoes may feel as if they are cutting right into the flesh. You feel sick all over with the pain and torture; you'd give anything to get relief.

Two or three applications of Moone's Emerald Oil and in fifteen minutes the pain and soreness disappears. A few more applications at regular intervals and the swelling reduces.

And as for Soft Corns and Callouses a few applications each night at bed time and they just seem to shrivel right up and scale off. No matter how discouraged you have been, if you have not tried Emerald Oil then you have something to learn, and best of all any offensive odor is gone for good. —Adv.

JUNIOR FAIR BOARD NAMED

1937 Members Selected at Meeting of Officials Last Night

Selection of junior fair board members for 1937 was made last night at a meeting of fair officials, vocational agriculture and home economics teachers of county schools and county extension officials at the office of County Agent S. I. Anderson. The new appointed board will meet next Thursday at 8 p. m. to elect officers and department heads.

Last night's meeting was in charge of [illegible] Bende [illegible] near Waldo, superintendent of the junior fair. Present were Mr. Anderson and his assistant R. W. Pifer, J. A. Raub, fair board secretary, Ralph White, vocational agriculture instructor at Morral, C. P. Smith, vocational agriculture teacher at Prospect, P. H. Cool, vocational instructor at Waldo and Evelyn Filiatrault, home economics teacher at Prospect.

They will also attend next week's meeting. The junior board will meet about once each month until fair time.

The members selected last night and the communities they represent are:

Martel: Lowell [illegible]; Kirkpatrick: Charles Speece and [illegible] Knowles; Grand Prairie: Willard David [illegible] Loren Stine and Helen M[illegible]; [illegible] Meeker: Fairn Carpenter and Marjorie Frost, [illegible] Ritter, Everett and Jack Coffin; Green Camp: Leta Oates and Arthur Rush; Prospect: Charles Gaffey and Pauline [illegible]; Waldo: Earl Augenstein, Donald Demorest and Geraldine [illegible]; Claridon: Charles Smith and Alfreda [illegible]; George Marion township: Helen P[illegible] and Robert Hiteman.

The premium lists for the junior fair will be worked out partly by the vocational agriculture and home economics teachers, partly by the county extension office and partly by the fair board.

KIWANIANS ATTEND MEETING AT TIFFIN

Delegation of 29 Marionites Among 13 Clubs Present for Session

A delegation of 29 Marion Kiwanians last night attended a meeting of the Fourth Ohio division of Kiwanis at Tiffin that marked the conclusion of a series of inter-club meetings in the division. A fellowship chest was carried from one club to another in inter-club sessions since Feb. 1 and completed its journey among the 13 clubs in the division when Fostoria delivered it to Tiffin last night.

Z. M. Walter of Lockland, Ohio, district Kiwanis governor of Ohio, gave the principal address.

The Marion club won one of three awards given last night. It was for having 775 man-miles on the Marion club's recent trip to Carey to deliver the fellowship chest. Mt. Gilead won another for the largest number of man-miles on the Tiffin trip last night and Fremont received an award for having the highest average attendance for February, March and April.

The Marion delegation was headed by J. J. Huebner, president, and Clarence Snyder, chairman of the Marion inter-club committee.

The trip to Tiffin took the place of the club's Thursday luncheon program for this week, but a round table luncheon without a program was held at Hotel Marion today to permit members unable to attend last night to keep up their attendance records.

Pulling a Leg

It has [illegible] the [illegible] relief poll [illegible] relief [illegible] doubt Never [illegible] there is no [illegible] that the [illegible]

More [illegible] the situation [illegible] will seem the possibility that for one reason or other the administration does not choose to publicize its relief policy except to repeat the broad promise that no one will be permitted to starve

For there is much circumstantial evidence of a strong clear relief policy related to the administration's other policies New deal theory holds that economic stability may be secured by bolstering the buying power of the lowest of the population's three general economic levels

In this lowest economic group are the beneficiaries of relief Skeptics doubt that some of them deserve relief Critics ask over and over again why the government doesn't count those who really are out of jobs Alarmists wonder what is going to happen with state and local expenditures for relief continuing to rise and no material decline in federal expenditures for the same purpose

These things singly and collectively are puzzling It is interesting that so many of them can be made clear by assuming that the Roosevelt administration really has a clear relief policy calling for distribution of as much money as possible to as many persons as possible and that its own seeming puzzlement over a relief problem which it understands perfectly is its way of pulling the public's leg—the one with the kicking foot on it

Confidence has been a marked characteristic of administration leaders in charge of judicial reorganization a little too marked if anything

It is evident now that most of the confidence was assumed to keep the public from knowing how evenly matched the two parties to the judicial controversy were An administration popularly supposed to be invulnerable could not afford to show that it knew it could be whipped

Defeat of the reorganization proposal in committee is now held a certainty If reported out unfavorably the bill will not be voted on till July Sen Ashurst chairman of the senate judiciary committee predicts Then if congress does not pass it he adds outraged public opinion will demand passage next year

This is the first time any important spokesman for the administration has mentioned the possibility of defeat for the bill Such a statement is in contrast to the bland assurances of Postmaster General Farley that we have the votes to pass this bill when we are ready

If this sort of thing continues there will come a day when congress will go to work on an administration measure and the country won't know how the decision turned out till the last vote is counted

Incidentally

Another year's distribution of Pulitzer prizes and the accompanying discussions not all of it good tempered brings to focus again a neglected aspect of the Pulitzer prize system

The cash value of the prizes is not great The honor of receiving one of them is coveted however Yet the nature of the awards and the fields of endeavor in which they are bestowed do not encourage that strange kind of frenzied activity known as prize competition

Pulitzer prizes are awarded for evident merit they are not intended to develop merit though possibly that may be an indirect effect The prizes are won incidentally almost accidentally Candidates do not compete for them in any literal sense of the word They do a good job win recognition then are told one night they have won a Pulitzer prize also

With prizes being used so widely as levers to pry out gems and pearls from places where they exist if they exist at all in murky obscurity it is a refreshing variation to have one set of prizes used solely to flatter merit not to tease it into showing itself

Apparently the remarkable constitution which Eamon de Valera proposes for Ireland has caused about as much excitement in England as the rules and by laws of a knitting club in an unincorporated Ohio village would cause in Washington

Here was a tough test of British composure A king and queen were about to be crowned But out of the mumbo jumbo concerning Ireland but Ireland in the mean time is giving attention to a proposal for [illegible] republican status—independent from Great Britain [illegible] in affairs [illegible] London [illegible]

Election Takes on New Meaning

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright 1937 By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON May 6 When [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] as follows

[illegible] be represented by local [illegible] United Automobile Workers of America as the sole representatives for collective bargaining

There was no alternative The worker had [illegible] CIO or nothing He wouldn't [illegible] any listing [illegible] with the management

In spite of the wording of the ballot [illegible] of the 17,000 were [illegible] difficult to understand what [illegible] meant Did they mean [illegible] wanted to bargain [illegible] This is hardly credible [illegible] and the usually [illegible] to speak for them

[illegible] of the ballot [illegible] the government of the United States wants the workmen to sustain [illegible] the CIO [illegible] the Packard employes were [illegible] election in the same sense that the term is usually applied [illegible]

A Consent Election

The balloting incidentally has been called by a branch of the national labor relations board a consent election This means that the employer and representatives of a group [illegible] agreement about it It is a curious thing often Senator Wagner and other sponsors of the present labor law on collective bargaining insist when it is to their advantage in debate that the employer has no rights at all in an election that he must refrain from in any way influencing its result and yet an election contract is placed before the employer and an agreement promulgated

One of the terms of the agreement in the Packard case included a stipulation that the election was to hold good for a year This means that no other means of exercising a choice was to be made available for twelve months to the workers in the Packard plant Just why the company should be made a party to the agreement about an election which concerns the employes only is something of a mystery unless it illustrates the extremes to which government officials are willing to go nowadays to help the CIO against the A F of L

The circumstances surrounding the Packard election will bear watching The Packard company obeyed every phase of the Wagner law It conceded the right of collective bargaining and even consented to an immediate election on the terms set forth by the national labor relations board No opportunity was given the company to set forth its view to the workmen and no means were provided for explaining to the workmen that they could have an organization of their own and that the national labor relations board would accord such an independent union the same rights on the ballot as a CIO union

Today with the CIO selected as the sole agency for collective bargaining by reason of the majority vote in the election the first legal hurdle has been passed Now the question is what does the collective bargaining bring The workmen in advance of the election were told that the $3 a month charge for dues would be reduced to 5 cents if the Packard workers would vote for CIO under the labor law the giving of inducements by labor unions to get votes is not an inducement but the willingness of an employer to pay the expenses of an employe organization so as to avoid the payment of dues is an unfair labor practice which is unlawful under the Wagner act

The campaign issue in the election at the Packard plant was a promise by the CIO that wage increases would be obtained A set of 21 demands has been presented which are now in process of being discussed between the Packard executives and the CIO representatives If the latter fail to get the main demands the workmen have no means for a whole year of getting rid of the committee which promised them special advantages in return for the payment of dues

So far as the demands are concerned a difficulty has arisen which may produce a cessation of employment and a severe strike The wage increases being asked of the Packard management involve a greater expense to that company than to its competitors The unions are not negotiating a basic scale for all auto workers but are demanding different things in different plants Even if a uniform increase is brought about there is no consideration given to any neutrals—the consumers—who might refuse to buy as many automobiles hereafter if the prices are raised to meet rising labor costs It is being reported rather widely that if the present trend of increased costs are accepted by the auto managements most cars will have to be advanced from $80 to $100 in which case a drop in production and hence a drop in employment would seem to be inevitable Maybe that's the election the workers have forgotten about—the election which the consumers usually hold when they are asked to choose between buying a new car at a price beyond their pocketbooks or sticking it out with the old car for a couple years or more The whole present trend of success in the auto industry dates from the time they began to bring prices down

NEW YORK [illegible] Elinor Herrick stopped shuffling the hundred or so letters on her desk and glanced up at her secretary ticking her head through the door

So the secretary invaded lower Broadway where Mrs Herrick's office is located for coffee and sandwiches By [illegible] the coffee was gone the sandwiches untouched

ELINORE HERRICK

In the interior Mrs Herrick had emerged from one of her interminable conferences grinning Another strike had been averted

She's the plump and hearty lady to whom all the disgruntled workers in northern New Jersey the lower half of New York and part of Connecticut take their complaints Her title is regional director of the national labor relations board you know NLRB Her district is the nation's most concentrated industrial area

There have been plenty of complaints to mediate since Mrs Herrick took office three years ago But now that the Wagner act has slid the supreme court test complaints are arriving in dead earnest and Mrs Herrick's office gives a fine imitation of those [illegible] NRA days

Averts Most Strikes

She admits that some of the square jawed workers and [illegible] employers look startled when they enter her office and realize that Mrs Herrick is a woman But she says about 85 per cent of the threatened strikes never occur after they've been through the NLRB mill She sort of wishes the public would realize that Furthermore she thinks [illegible] a third of the complaints

Sometimes the harassed industrial chieftains [illegible] One walked in recently flanked by a lawyer and a court stenographer

Mrs Herrick smiled If I'm the sort of person that makes a lawyer and a stenographer necessary she said I can do you no good Goodbye The gentleman sagged but he sat down alone and his particular strike never materialized

Factory Worker

Mrs Herrick is a girl who quit Barnard college because she couldn't switch from a full history course to one given by Charles Beard She was curious about all the labor talk so she went to work folding paper boxes in a factory Then she shifted to a DuPont factory at Old Hickory Tenn where she stayed until she became a production manager

Meanwhile she married had two sons and became a widow Those two boys would have scared many a mother into keeping a job But not Mrs Herrick who knocked off work to enroll at Antioch college in Ohio which was run then by Dr Arthur Morgan of the TVA board

WASHINGTON May 6—Postmaster General James A Farley both gives and receives inside political news at his press conferences

Things are so informal in his spacious mahogany walled office suite that the get togethers with newsmen often turn into a sort of open forum

Farley will divulge some behind the scenes incident—often off the record—and then some reporters will tell him one Unintentionally or not it sounds like horse trading

The postmaster general who is of course the chairman of the Democratic national committee makes everybody feel at home

Reporters troop into his office and swarm about his big desk Some even sit on it and they put questions to him Others unable to get up close get around behind him and crack jokes over his shoulder

Always at ease with the press the postmaster general manages to hear everyone's question and to reply if he can Many of his replies are off the record and can not be printed but they supply important background

Many veteran reporters swear by him as a news source

Son James Speaks for Father

BY PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON May 6—Young James Roosevelt failed to get headlines throughout the country on his recent Boston speech but if his words reflected the serious thoughts of his father extra editions should have been issued He more than surprised a large gathering in that city by declaring that the problem of creating jobs in private industry was one to be solved by the states and not the federal government

Whose problem is this creation of jobs he asked Is it the business of the federal government or is it the business of Massachusetts? I am convinced it belongs to the commonwealth The time has come when states must pull in harness with Washington instead of always being second in the tandem with all the pull being borne up front And these problems are by their nature things that can best be accomplished by the states

One Boston paper said Son James spoke as administrative assistant to his father In its account of his speech this parenthetical notation was made Regarded by many as the unofficial pronouncement of the national administration James used the first pronoun I pretty generally His we hooked him so closely to Massachusetts that he was asked if he intended to seek office His answer was I'm not saying now

Approved?

At the capital more than one senator sent for a copy of the address It was felt that Mr R's own son would not go before such a gathering—the speech was delivered at a testimonial banquet to Boston's postmaster Peter F Tague—and utter such thoughts without presidential sanction Special significance was attached to these words of James regarding the need for relief funds To use the lawyer's words the burden of proof must be shifted from Washington to Massachusetts to Boston and Worcester to Lynn and North Adams

Few know it but back of those words is this story At one of the White House budget balancing conferences preceding Mr R's departure for tarpon waters the President is reported to have complained of the pressure placed on him by governors and mayors for federal aid Mr Roosevelt was represented as finding this group a tough one to handle They either couldn't understand or just wouldn't take a No to their requests

It has leaked out that this suggestion was made to the executive If a governor or a mayor asked for money tell him to submit proof of his need When this proof is given the President would say something like this Now that you have given me proof that your state is bankrupt and unable to care for its needy I'll publicly issue a formal proclamation to the nation saying that Gov So and So has certified that his state is financially embarrassed and in need of federal charity

The President then was told that he would not be bothered No governor or mayor in his right mind would admit publicly that his state or city was no better off than a poor house If he did the voters would take care of him at the next election

Mistake

The proposal by Congressman Woodrum of Virginia that all the big appropriation bills be sent back to committee to pare down the total cost was a tactical blunder Colleagues on the committee gave a prompt veto to the proposition It was embarrassing as it has only been a few weeks since the bills were reported Any economies that could be made now could have been made then but no one was thinking of economies Vice President Garner had not started his Paul Revere ride to warn the country against overspending

Change

The administration is quietly doing an about face on its farm program Backstage much is happening Little as yet has reached the surface The reason is that more than one in the administration feel that if the farmer is ever to be on his own feet it is time to start Mr Roosevelt also has let it be known that he thinks the farmer has received enough New Deal thinking on agricultural lines will now be centered on plans that are self supporting

One piece of farm legislation apparently safely tucked out of sight is the crop insurance bill designed to aid wheat farmers It has been given to a house agriculture sub-committee on which no wheat states are represented The $50,000,000 tenant farmer bill has little life left in it

The old story that the mice will play when the cat's away is most applicable to official Washington when Mr Roosevelt goes fishing Several members of the cabinet are absent taking needed rests while others are planning to frolic

Mr Garner the vice president is the guest of honor of one party going to the Kentucky derby Postmaster General Jim Farley is heading another Mr Morgenthau is forgetting gold and other worries at his farm in New York and Attorney General Cummings is resting in the south from the court packing fight

BY O O MCINTYRE

NEW YORK May 6—The plight of many theatrical stars was stressed this midwinter when William Faversham for years an idol of the stage gave up the long fight for a living and entered an actor's home with the listing completely destitute He had fought valiantly for a niche here and in Hollywood

The Faversham Julie Opp openings were the Lunt and Fontanne Premieres of that day They received the highest salaries ever paid up to that time and on their tours were as popular in the outland as in New York No star got more mash notes than Favvy

Faversham went to his charity cloister with his chin up He refused to see reporters I am of a forgotten past he said and of no interest to the public There are a half hundred Favershams in Broadway going down hill with shoulders back head high

They live in shabby rooming houses and try with all their might to look prosperous hoping against hope for the inevitable break Almost every day they drop into the Lambs or Players as though life were not the heart breaking existence it has turned out to be

The current ringadoo in cigaret cases is large sized in plain gold or silver upon which the owner has the autograph of his intimate friend engraved Clay Morgan the N B C ballyhooer has one of the most elaborate — inscribed with more than 100 famous names Incidentally I hear the most expensive cigaret case known is owned by the Duke of Windsor and cost $14,000

As the result of a suit of her last husband Chet O'Brien a chorus boy member of her company to share in her estate it was revealed that Marilyn Miller left but $64,000 During her most productive dozen years she was the stage's highest salaried star receiving during some months of Sally $7,000 a week a record up to that time She lived modestly but was generous with friends and relatives For her talents she rose higher than almost any actress of her time A hundred girls in the chorus could dance as well and her voice was not unusual Also her smile was one of those woodenly props grimaces yet she had a quality not sex but a little girl appeal that brought customers to the box office She made more money for Ziegfeld than any other single star

SPRING TOY DRIVE WILL START MONDAY

To Collect Articles Unearthed in Housecleaning for Annual Christmas Party.

A two-week spring drive for dolls and toys for the annual children's community Christmas party will start Monday under auspices of the Phalanx fraternity.

Temporary toy headquarters will be set up at 177 East Center street and contributions will be received there afternoons during the two weeks.

A dozen or more calls have come to members of the fraternity asking for the drive, officers said.

Spring housecleaning has brought to light toys which owners do not wish to store away until the holiday season and the spring drive will give housewives an opportunity to clear attics and basements.

Anyone who does not have a way of getting the toys to the headquarters may call the Y. M. C. A., 5127, and someone will pick up the toys at the home.

The toys will be repaired by young men of the fraternity and will be stored at the Central fire station until the 1937 Christmas party is staged.

STEEL PRODUCERS FACE STRIKE THREAT

Murray Warns of Walkout Unless Independents Sign Wage and Hour Pacts.

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, May 6 — Independent steel producers who refused to recognize the Steel Workers Organizing committee, faced today a blunt threat of strikes in their plants and coal mines.

Philip Murray, lieutenant of John L. Lewis in the campaign to unionize the country's steel workers, warned the independents last night that the union would call a strike, if necessary, to win agreements on wages, hours and working conditions.

The independents, he charged, have formed an "unholy alliance" against contracts with the committee and as a result would face a crisis in their coal mines "within 48 hours."

The committee, he reiterated for the third time this week, would not be responsible for keeping its members at work for independents who decline to sign agreements.

J. A. Voss, director of industrial relations for the company, told the committee that "in view of the Wagner act" he could see no necessity for a signed contract. He added, however, that he would be willing to meet committee spokesmen May 11 in Cleveland.

To that, Murray observed:

"I can't see any reason for meeting with a man who starts by refusing to sign a contract."

Murray said he had been advised by counsel that national labor relations board has the power under the Wagner act to determine who is to be labor's representative in a plant, but possibly did not have the power to order the signing of a contract.

SENATE INVESTIGATES SALE OF VAN RAILS

Wheeler Sees Ban on Carrier Holding Firms as Result of Inquiry.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 6 — A senate committee undertook today to learn all the facts about the purchase of control of the nation's largest rail network by three investment brokers for one-five-hundredth of its estimated value.

Chairman Wheeler, Democrat of Montana, of the railway finance committee said far-reaching legislation—including the outlawing of railroad holding companies—might result from the inquiry.

He summoned Robert R. Young, Frank F. Kolbe, and Allan P. Kirby to explain their acquisition for $6,375,000 of securities controlling the Van Sweringen transportation empire from George A. Ball, elderly Indiana glass-maker and Republican national committeeman.

Through a towering pyramid of holding companies these securities carry command of $3,000,000,000 worth of properties—among them seven major railway systems, coal pits, fashionable hotels, bus lines, and midwestern office buildings.

lines. It appears to give us information never before divulged. Declarations contained in the deposition, we found, were made in the midst of a bitter civil action. The nature of these statements, however, make it my duty to carefully sift them and present them with what additional information we may have, to the grand jury."

The district attorney said two diaries were found by his investigators at Mary Miles Minter's Beverly Hills home and would be read to the grand jury.

Taylor, whose real name was William Deane Tanner, directed Miss Minter in several pictures and was the friend of many film notables of his day.

He was shot in the back and killed on the evening of Feb. 1, 1922. The slaying was discovered the next morning by his Negro houseman.

The last person known to have talked with Taylor before his death was the late Mabel Normand, then a reigning comedienne. She bade him adieu approximately 15 minutes prior to the shooting, police determined.

Police began a long and fruitless search for Edward Sands, Taylor's missing valet, who had been discharged by the director after a series of robberies in his bachelor quarters.

Slaying a Puzzle For 15 Years

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, May 6—William Desmond Taylor, the suave screen director, has been an enigma in police history ever since he was shot to death 15 years ago.

A bullet in his back, his body was found face upward on his living room floor, Feb. 2, 1922, by Henry Peavey, Negro butler.

Edna Purviance, leading lady for Charlie Chaplin, heard Peavey's startled cry in her apartment next door.

The first detective to arrive thought Taylor had died of a heart attack. The officer was writing his report when Charles Eyton, then general manager of Famous Players Lasky studios, raised the body of his friend. "Good God, he's been murdered—he's been shot," Eyton exclaimed.

Into the headline case were drawn Mabel Normand, Mary Miles Minter and a host of other film personalities who had known Taylor. None could throw light on his death.

Robbery was not a motive. Taylor had $78 in his wallet, jewelry on his person, when his body was found.

Miss Normand said she had borrowed a book from him the previous evening, 15 minutes before Mrs. MacLean said she heard a shot that may have marked his slaying.

Love letters from Miss Minter were in his personal effects. She said they were in love and engaged to wed.

Although Taylor was in the movie "big money," he had only $5,000 in the bank and cancelled checks for staggering amounts drawn to "cash" only. Yet his bachelor existence reputedly was thrifty.

Theories were advanced that he had spent large sums because he had been fighting the establishment of a narcotic ring in the film colony and had been blackmailed as a result.

His former valet, Edward Sands, who had disappeared after Taylor accused him of thefts, was hunted for years by police for questioning.

No one has ever been arrested and charged with Taylor's murder.

TWO BOATS CLASH IN FOG OFF BOSTON

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, May 6—A collision in a fog between the Italian steamship Maria and the coal-loaded schooner Edward R. Schmuth of New York 45 miles from Boston was reported today by coastguard headquarters. All hands were safe and the steamer was towing the schooner to Boston.

A wireless from the Maria said the collision occurred in a fog, that the schooner's jib boom was broken and that the coal boat was leaking.

intendent and Marion county chairman of the college or school adult education program, said he is inclined to believe that the eye of the soul and mind is able to precipitate a quickness which the physical eye can not, and that "the physical eye is only one of the channels through which we gain our education."

WPA Director Speaks

S. D. Downing, WPA director for district No. 6, said he took a great deal of pride in the Marion class and that the same view is held by the WPA and the state blind agencies. "There is more constructive real purpose in a class of this kind than most any we have in our emergency school program," he said, adding, "I hope when there is no longer any need of the WPA it will be possible through these classes to create such a need and craving that it will be hard to sidetrack or discontinue it."

The class was viewed as an awakening of community interest by Miss Mechling, as she spoke of the good that comes of the blind meeting each other and exchanging ideas.

Mrs. Richard E. Parish, chairman of blind work done by the Marion County Federation of Women's clubs, announced that the federation has purchased a book talking machine with radio attachment, which will be available at future meetings of the class, and promised the federation's cooperation in supplying new material. Miss Vivian Hall, public assistance visitor for Marion county, expressed her interest in helping in any way and spoke of the need of such a class in the county.

The informal program of talks and music opened with selections by an instrumental trio headed by Thomas Finch of Marion, who will instruct in guitar, mandolin and violin. Miss Isabelle Savage of Meeker, who will teach piano and music appreciation, played a selection and later led in group singing of favorite songs.

Other teachers are Mrs. Florence P. Burns of Marion, Braille; Kenneth Kinsler of Agosta, basket making and cane seat weaving; Mrs. Elizabeth Russell of Marion, sewing, crocheting and knitting.

INDEPENDENT COURT DEMANDED BY HUGHES

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 6.—Chief Justice Hughes said today a "competent and independent judiciary" must parallel legislative and executive institutions in order to safeguard individual rights.

"The firm and true administration of justice is thus the primary concern of civilized society," he told the American Law Institute.

"The success of Democratic institutions lies in the success of the processes of reason as opposed to the tyranny of force. If society chooses the processes of reason, it must maintain the institutions which embody those processes."

The chief justice did not mention President Roosevelt's proposal to enlarge the supreme court unless members over 70 retire.

He pointed out, however, that the court is up in its work as it approaches the close of a term.

FARMER INJURED IN CRASH AT BUCYRUS

By The Associated Press

BUCYRUS, O., May 6—C. J. Dorizz, 57, dairy farmer, escaped with a dislocated right shoulder and facial lacerations when his automobile was struck by a Pennsylvania shortline freight train last night at 10 in Bucyrus. His general condition was reported to be good at the City hospital where he was taken following the accident.

Mr. Dorizz was enroute to his home east of Bucyrus when the accident occurred. He said he did not hear a warning bell it was reported. His car was badly damaged.

If the senate refuses to approve a joint committee report which the house accepted, the budget problem will be left over to a special session, the executive declared.

A change in the old age pension law allowing the state director power to name his own county boards probably will result in a reduction in the number of pensioners on the present rolls, Davey said. However, 27,000 new applications are pending to replace those dropped where it is possible to have relatives assume their support.

friend and spokesman of Mrs. Simpson and her former host at Cannes, will give the bride in marriage.

To Honeymoon in Austria

Soon after the wedding the couple are expected to leave the chateau. Redecoration of their prospective honeymoon retreat in southern Austria, Wasserleonburg castle, will be completed about June 1. Edward rented the Austrian castle for $400 a month.

Perhaps a week will lapse between the coronation and Edward's marriage, in line with the duke's plan to attract as little attention as possible from the London celebration.

Plans for after the honeymoon it was said authoritatively, were still uncertain. One project understood to be under consideration would take the duke and duchess on a good will tour of African and other British colonies.

Mrs. Simpson's wedding gown, the creation of a Paris fashion house, is nearly ready. Her spokesman, Herman L. Rogers of New York, another chateau guest, announced she had ordered new clothes and that the order "includes the dress she will wear at her wedding."

Apparently, the former British monarch had in a manner won his first argument with the future duchess, if an argument it was—for it was learned last night she had consented to an Austrian honeymoon of several months' duration amid the Alpine lakes of southern Austria.

The castle, a 40-room structure built in 1260 and rebuilt in 1717, has beautiful gardens and a simple chapel. It stands near Arnoldstein, Carinthia, near the junction of the Austrian, Italian and Yugoslav frontiers.

Couple Asks for License But Girl Returns With Another Man

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 6—Nineteen-year-old Ruth Ballenger walked into the office of Carl Brock, marriage license clerk, Monday with Charles Hillen, 21, of Millfield, O.

They applied for a marriage license and were told to return in five days.

Yesterday Miss Ballenger appeared with Leroy Ayres, 20, of Columbus to get a license.

"How about this other fellow, Hillen?" asked Brock.

"I've changed my mind. I like this man better," replied the girl. She added that Hillen had been informed of her plan to marry Ayres.

Brock said the first application would be canceled.

Diamond Destroyed

[illegible]

It was the youth's attempt to dispose of some of the stolen articles that led to his arrest, Chief Marks said. The arrest followed an investigation of reports from various sources that rings, watches and other jewelry had been offered for sale by the youth.

A good share of the loot taken from the houses the youth admitted burglarizing was in cash. None of this was recovered.

Victims Called In

After working on the case from early last night until 2 o'clock this morning police called in the persons who had previously made reports of house burglaries. A number had come in this morning and identified part of the loot recovered.

A list of the 10 places the youth admitted entering, the dates and the value placed on the stolen articles by the owners, follows:

The Walter Wilson residence at 180 Blaine avenue, Feb. 14, watches and jewelry, $100; [illegible] residence at 201 [illegible] street, Feb. 10, old coins and box of [illegible]; George [illegible] residence at [illegible] avenue, jewelry and watches, $35, Feb. 28; [illegible] residence at 108 South Prospect street, jewelry and watches, $51.50, March 3; Mrs. Henry Rohl residence at 255 Lafayette street, watches and jewelry, $60, March 6, watch and two rings identified by Miss Pauline Rohl; Mrs. [illegible] residence at 665 East Church street, $18 in money and $40 in jewelry, watch identified; Don [illegible] Wood residence at 415 South Grand avenue, March 20; Mrs. [illegible] residence at [illegible] Church street, watches and jewelry, $150 in cash, $100.00, March 31; [illegible] residence at 663 Mt. RASKOB PAID NO TAX ON HIS 1930 INCOME

Evidence Brought Out in Suit to Collect Funds from duPont and Associate.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 6.—John J. Raskob, multimillionaire business associate of Pierre S. duPont and former chairman of the Democratic political committee, paid no income tax in 1930, it was brought out today in the income tax case against the two industrialists.

Mason [illegible], special counsel for the internal revenue bureau and chief of government counsel in the litigation to collect approximately $2,000,000 from the two industrialists in alleged deficiency on their 1929 tax, introduced Raskob's returns for 1930 into evidence at the hearing before Richard Disney, member of the U. S. board of tax commissioners.

Col. Joseph Hartfield, Raskob's attorney, objected to making public the return and urged Commissioner Disney to impound it in the hands of the clerk.

After a brief hearing in the commissioner's chambers in the old federal building, Disney allowed newspapermen to see the return and said:

"The public has a legitimate right to news. I am not going to bar you from seeing the return."

Mr. and Mrs. Hoch Hold Reception on 50th Anniversary

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES HOCH

A family dinner and observance of open house yesterday marked the celebration of the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoch of six miles south of Marion in Pleasant township.

About 50 relatives and close friends attended the dinner. The table at which the celebrants were seated was centered with a large wedding cake and yellow streamers and flowers carried out the golden anniversary theme.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoch received their friends informally from 2 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon and 7 to 10 o'clock in the evening in the home in which they have lived since their marriage May 5, 1887. They were assisted by their children, Mrs. C. E. Easele of near Martel and Mrs. [illegible] of Columbus and their grandchildren Jane E. and Robert [illegible] Roth[illegible]

Mr. and Mrs. Hoch repeated their wedding vows of a half century ago with Rev. I. M. Koeppe, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, officiating. He was assisted by [illegible] H. Molenauer of near Magnetic Springs. After the ceremony lunch was served by the Trinity Lutheran Aid society of which Mrs. Hoch is a charter member.

The celebrants received a number of gifts from their family and close relatives and greetings from their friends and neighbors including flowers, cards and other remembrances.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hoch were born in Pleasant township and both are members of Trinity Lutheran church. Mr. Hoch has followed the occupation of farming.

MOTHERS HONORED AT CHURCH PARTY

Mothers of members of the Standard Bearers society of the Prospect Street M. E. church were entertained at a dessert party Tuesday night at the church. Spring flowers decorated the recreation room and pink carnations centered the small tables at which refreshments were served to 23. Each mother was given a pink carnation.

A program included a Mother's day reading by Miss Jean Midlam, group singing of favorite songs and reading of Mother's day poems by Miss Henry Ming Coats, followed.

The program was arranged by Misses Hildegarde Wanner and Mabel Mullins and refreshments were in charge of Mrs. Martha Gull and Mrs. Emma Carpenter.

SENIORS TO GIVE PLAY

MEEKER, May 6—The senior play, "Sound Your Horn," will be presented Friday evening at the Meeker school auditorium.

Why fear Childbirth

when you can turn the months of waiting into ease and comfort. Avoid unnecessary pain and after regrets by preparing your body now for that dear baby's coming. A massage medium and skin lubricant called Mother's Friend helps to relieve and prevent skin tightness, abdominal tissue breaks, dry skin, caked breasts, after delivery wrinkles. Mother's Friend refreshes and tones the skin, tissues and muscles. It makes them supple, pliant and elastic. It is scientific in composition—composed of especial oils and highly beneficial ingredients—externally applied, pure and safe. Quickly absorbed. Delightful to use. Highly praised by users, many doctors and nurses. Time tested for over 60 years. Millions of bottles sold. Try it tonight. Just ask any druggist for Mother's Friend.

TAKE WEIGHT OFF TIRED FEET

Lose Fat The Easy Way—Without Starvation Diets or Back Breaking Bending and Rolling Exercises.

If your feet and ankles feel tired and ache all over—because you are carrying too much fat—do something. Also fat. Try the treatment that has helped millions to reduce excess weight.

The main reason why so many people find dieting and often times futile in reducing. The reason, doctors say, is often because a little gland is not working right. All the blood in your body goes through this tiny gland sixteen times every day. If it doesn't pour into the blood stream about one and one half drops of vital fluid every 24 hours, many people take on ugly fat. The fluid helps Nature to "burn up" excess food and fats, in much the same way as a good draft acts in a furnace.

Now physicians combat this condition by feeding this gland the substance it lacks—and millions of pounds of excess fat has been wiped out in this way.

Marmola Prescription Tablets are based on the same method used by doctors. So don't waste your time or money starving to reduce with starvation diets or back breaking exercises. Start the Marmola treatment today that millions have used successfully to get rid of excess fat. The formula is in every box so you know just what you are taking. Don't wait—get a box of Marmola today from your druggist.

GONE!—THE HIGH COST OF STOMACH TROUBLE

Don't pay $2.00 to $5.00 for relief from stomach pain, indigestion, hyperacidity. Try Dr. Emil Adler Tablets. 3 weeks treatment only $1.25. Relief or your money back. Henney & Cooper, Druggists—Adv.

NO THAT'S NO SECRET — THE NEW RINSO. I'VE HEARD THAT IT GIVES 25 TO 50% MORE SUDS
[illegible] RINSO SOAKS CLOTHES AT LEAST 5 SHADES WHITER THAN ORDINARY SOAPS
I'VE DISCOVERED THAT THE NEW [illegible] IS MARVELOUS FOR DISHES—MU[illegible] ECONOMICAL—A LITTLE GOES S[illegible] AS KIND TO YOUR HANDS TOO

WHEN we first announced that Rinso had been improved women who had used Rinso for years said "How could you make Rinso any better—it always has been such a perfect soap?" But then they tried the New 1937 Rinso and joyously stated that it gives 25 to 50% more suds—that it soaks clothes at least 5 shades whiter than ordinary soaps—without scrubbing or boiling.

So if you haven't used Rinso lately—we urge you to do so. See for yourself how much richer, faster acting and longer lasting the New Rinso suds are. Rinso is recommended by the makers of 33 famous washers. Economical—a little goes a long, long way.

"MOTHER OF 1937" ON RADIO SUNDAY

Mrs. James Roosevelt, mother of the President, will take part in a Mother's day program over WEAF-NBC Sunday afternoon under the auspices of the Golden Rule Foundation. She will introduce Mrs. Carl Raymond Gray, "Mother of 1937." No definite time has been announced.

Tonight's programs: Sir Josiah Stamp at 6:30 WEAF-NBC from London on the economics; Alexander Woollcott at 6:30 over WABC-CBS; Boston pop concert WJZ-NBC 7:30; spelling bee new time at 8:30 over WJZ-NBC.

Assistant Sec. of Labor Edward F. McGrady will speak at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow on "Wagner Act Decisions" over WJZ-NBC.

SEWING CENTER NOW EMPLOYS 91 WOMEN

Morning and Afternoon Shifts Maintained To Keep Work Roll at High Mark.

With two shifts placed in operation recently 91 women, all from direct relief families in the city, now compose the group employed at the Marion sewing center, according to figures released today from WPA headquarters at Sandusky. The first shift works from 6 a. m. to noon and the second from noon to 6 p. m.

The purpose of the change was to provide employment for a larger number of women without increasing the necessary facilities and space. Each week the sewing center, which is operated under the WPA program for the county, has an average production of 525 garments.

For these garments, which include street and house clothes for infants, children, men and women, approximately 1,100 yards of cotton material is required. At the present time the center is located on the first floor of the relief headquarters building on South Prospect street, having recently moved from a North State street location.

Mrs. Jennie Crane of 321 South High street is in charge of the work. The garments produced are stored at the relief building and distributed as needed to the direct relief clients. The distribution however, is handled under a different department. For the most part the women use sewing machines for the work, 45 of them being in operation during the day. With the change to two work shifts it has been possible to keep the employment in the neighborhood of 90.

DRAMATIC GROUP TO HOLD DINNER

Ye Merrie Players Plan Banquet May 13.

The annual banquet of Ye Merrie Players, senior dramatic group of Harding High school, will be held Thursday night, May 13, at the First Presbyterian church.

One hundred or more members and guests will be present. Clever invitations were issued this week by a committee composed of Martha Jane Rogers, Margaret Young and Eileen Caldwell.

In addition to invited guests and the cast of the 1937 play, "Queen Victoria," all those who assisted in any way with the production will be present.

Miss Lucile Foreman, director, is the club faculty sponsor.

Committees have been named to arrange for stunts and toasts and Elizabeth Stinson will be in charge of table decorations.

So swift that its speed has been kept secret, an observation airplane built for the British army is shaped like a bullet, has a three bladed propeller and landing wheels enclosed in streamlined shields.

Marriage Meddlers

BY ADELE GARRISON

What Is Significance Behind Mary's Surprise?

ACROSS MARY'S head Dicky signaled a query to me as she asked if we were going to let her tell us what was in the mind.

I nodded for I saw that the hot tea as well as her relief at getting to us had banished her hysteria and her weakness. Her strength was adequate for the strain of any revelation she might make, and I knew that her nerves would be much less taut when she had told us the reason for her "flight" to us—I knew that no other word could describe her journey.

"Same old Uncle Dicky, the best and the most amusing in the world," she told him. Dicky rose and swept into a most elaborate bow, hand to hip, as if he held a plumed hat in his hand.

"For the love of all the prophets," he ejaculated, "can the compliments and get down to brass tacks. Your aunt and I are going to explode from suppressed curiosity if you don't begin this spiel pretty soon."

"I was ready when I first came in," Mary reminded him slyly, "but I'm glad you shut me off. I wasn't fit to talk then. I probably would have broken down and blubbered all over the lot."

Veritzen Unpredictable

Dicky made a gesture of exasperation which, fortunately, Mary did not see. I put a direct question to her.

"Has Mr. Veritzen said anything to upset you, dear?"

Mary's lovely, mutinous mouth curved into a mocking smile.

"I don't know that you'd call it upsetting," she said, "but it's a bit—well, shall we say 'exciting,' to have him tell me he's going to bring me out as a star in two or three months."

"What?"

Dicky and I uttered the exclamation as with one voice, and Mary looked at us curiously.

"You don't seem to approve."

"We don't understand," Dicky said and I nodded assent. "Phil Veritzen never did a thing like that in his life before. You're a lovely thing, Mary, and you have great talent, but you're not ready for stardom, yet. You know that as well as we do, and nobody knows it better than Phil Veritzen. So why, why why?"

Mary Is Confused

"That's what's eating me, darlings," Mary said, her bright face clouded. "He has something up his sleeve, and I've worn my brains out trying to figure out what it is. You don't suppose he has such a secret hatred for me that he's planning to have me fall publicly?"

"Put that out of your noddle right now, Mary," her uncle told her. "I'm not putting the meanness of such a thing past old Phil. I think he'd poison his mother if she got in the way of some scheme of his."

"Dicky!" I exclaimed reproachfully, and he had the grace to look a trifle ashamed of himself.

"I fancy I was a bit strong there," he said with a grin. "Let's say he just would put ipecac in her tea, or something like that, and not really poison her. But he's not—overscrupulous, shall I say?" He cocked an impudent eyebrow at me.

"I think that may do," I said demurely, and Mary struck in impatiently:

"But, Uncle Dicky, I don't understand. If you say he's mean enough to do it, why should I put it out of my mind?"

"Maya, child," Dicky asked with mock solemnity, "did you ever hear of anything called the artistic temperament?"

[illegible] from Marion [illegible] territory [illegible] registered [illegible] of the Mar[illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] field of shooting 45 out of a possible 50 from the 16-yard line. Two professional trapshooters participated in the meet, L. L. Har[illegible] of Dayton who cracked 89 in the 16-yard event and C. T. Stevens of Zanesville who cracked through with the almost perfect score of 98.

Veteran Participates

The well-known C. A. "Sparrow" Young, who at the age of 67 has had [illegible] the honor of being the oldest participant in the Grand American competition, took part in the shoot yesterday. "Sparrow" hit 92 birds in the 16-yard event and scored 46 of 50 in the handicap division, shooting from the 22-yard line.

The affair yesterday was the annual registered shoot of the [illegible] and plans have already been inaugurated for three additional registered events here this summer. They are scheduled for May 30, July 4 and Aug. 7.

70 TO START WORK ON WPA PROJECTS

Salt Rock Township and Prospect Will Get Federal Work Jobs.

WPA projects which will employ 70 men will be started in Marion county next week, it was announced today by WPA officials here. Forty men will be put to work placing a mile of 18-inch tile in the Rutter ditch in the eastern part of Salt Rock township.

Two projects at Prospect will employ 30 men. Landscaping the Prospect cemetery and improving the war memorial in the cemetery will be started Monday. Twenty-five men will be employed on the work which is expected to require two months. Funds totaling $4,454 will be spent. Of that amount the sponsor's share is $900 and the federal funds are $3,554.

Five men next week will begin painting and renovating the town hall in Prospect. Work will be done both inside and outside the building. The sponsor's share is $200 and federal funds total $350 for the project.

SEA-GOING REGIMENT.

The 8th Ohio volunteer infantry was in notable battles of the Civil war, but probably no engagement with the enemy ever was the cause of more terror than a brief experience with the winds and waves off the mouth of Chesapeake bay.

In June, 1862, the regiment was sent from Alexandria, Va., by water to the aid of General McClellan. It was placed on a steamer with a barge in its tow. A terrific wind came up and the vessels were soon in distress. The men on board expected them to founder at any minute.

The storm finally subsided, however, and the regiment continued to its destination.

Inching Down the Corridor

[illegible] goose chase [illegible] with the murderer" William [illegible] Christopher [illegible] Cook. The [illegible] been stunned [illegible] down to us at first. William had been upstairs. He [illegible] had ample time to [illegible]

Oh, [illegible] reminded me that I had almost relaxed my vigil. William's own room remained. It was at the end of the corridor and on the opposite side from where I sat. I thought I would be able to see it quite clearly when the door was opened.

"Good," I said, striving to make my voice sound natural. "Go ahead."

If anything was on his conscience as he opened the door he didn't show it. He pushed it open confidently and switched on a light. As much as I could see of it his room was the exact replica of Higgins'. Same bed and [illegible] closet. Small stand by the bed [illegible] no further. If William was the murderer he might be up to almost anything beyond my range of sight.

There was [illegible] my action. I gave one hasty look up and down the stair hall and threw caution to the winds. Very quietly I let the swinging door between the passages go [illegible] inch by inch I edged myself down the corridor in the direction of the beam of light coming from his room. I kept my back well against the wall in which his door stood. Almost it seemed that the man would hear my breathing. Just outside the beam of light I halted. I could see most of the room but no William.

A disconcerting thought struck me. After all, should my bright idea be entirely wrong and William find me not only deserting my post but also sneaking [illegible] dark corridor toward a spot to which I myself had sent him my position might need a lot of explaining.

He certainly didn't consider me above suspicion in the first place. He had heard me order the others to keep their door locked until I told them to open it. He had watched me lock every door upstairs and pocket the keys. His case would be rather better than mine if he ever had reason to present one. Nevertheless I drew a deep breath and stepped into the beam of light.

Crouched in the doorway stood William, his face a mask of rage and hate. He held a golf club in his hand and as I sprang at him roaring "You dirty devil!" darkness descended over me like a tent.

I find myself bound and gagged when I come to, tomorrow.

PUPILS HEAR RADIUM TALK

Marvels of Science Disclosed to Group by Dr. Luther Gable Pioneer in Work

Approximately 1600 boys and girls of the Vernon and Central Junior high schools heard an inspirational address this morning by Dr Luther Gable of [illegible] lone survivor of a group of six chemical engineers who refined the first commercial radium [illegible]

Dr Gable's presentation of the subject of radium and the marvels which science has disclosed for the [illegible] of today south was described by one schoolman [illegible] and entertaining [illegible] in my school

Radium Shown to Pupils

With him Dr Gable is carrying radium estimated conservatively at a value of $7000 [illegible] the assemblies [illegible] the precious radium [illegible] in tubes [illegible] protected by lead case

The point which Dr Gable stressed the [illegible] was that science will [illegible] from and finally the cosmic ray [illegible] the youth of today can harness to turn the wheels of industry

The likes of the cosmic ray were never dreamed of by Marconi he said and Franklin although he discovered electricity with a kite and key had no notion of the vast field he was opening The average boy of today has a working knowledge of electricity and radio that with a knowledge of the cosmic ray and its power he can revolutionize the world he said

Good Will Ambassador

Dr Gable who is a good will ambassador of the 1937 Great Lakes Exposition in Cleveland will speak next Thursday morning at the Thomas A Edison Junior high school and will be in the vicinity of Marion throughout the week He will spend some time with relatives Mr and Mrs I F Miller of Girard avenue

Dr Gable is a designer of high efficiency ultra violet and infra red therapeutic lamps and the inventor of the first American radium emanator He also produced the first 100 luminous radium watch dials made in the United States As technician for the Standard and Radium Chemical Companies at Pittsburgh he organized and instructed one of the first radium therapy societies for the treamtent of cancer with radium

However in his talks to school pupils he does not discuss the medical side of the use of radium
